World Awaits Russia's Decision On President's Atomic Proposal

IKE CALLS ON U.N. FOR A-BOMB CONTROL. In an historic address before the United Nations, President Eisenhower (right) calls on Russia and other U.N. members to join in the creation of a world atomic treasury for peaceful purposes. The President said in his action that it was his purpose to bring the east and west out of "this dark chamber of horrors" into the light. Russia's Andrei Vishinsky (left) applauded the speech and later told newsmen: "I am not too optimistic just now, but we must see."

Big 4 Session Suggested in Berlin Jan. 4

Notes to Kremlin Ask Conference on Future Of Germany, Austria

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Big Three Western powers have formally asked Russia to discuss the future of Germany and Austria at a meeting in Berlin next month.

On the record, they neither encouraged nor shut off the possibility of a later session to include China.

Notes to the Kremlin from Washington, London and Paris were made public last night. They suggested, as had been learned unofficially a day earlier, that the Big Four talks open Jan. 4. The suggested location: a building formerly used by the Allied Control Council in Berlin's American sector.

U. S. Reply Brief

This government employed a 20-word note, moderately phrased, to reply to the 2,000-word message from Moscow proposing the early Berlin meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers. The Soviet also reiterated a desire for Big Five talks, including China, and again assailed Western European defense plans as increasing "threat of a new world war."

As for talks with China, the U.S. reply said major progress toward German unification and an Austrian peace treaty "will contribute to the solution of other major international problems."

Without giving any sign the West would agree to a meeting with China, the United States said the Berlin talks "will enable any participating government to state its views on this question."

Collective Effort

As for the Western defense system which the United States is backing, Washington reiterated that this "voluntary association (is) exclusively defensive and a collective contribution to peace."

The language of the notes from this country, Great Britain and France was worked out at Big Three talks in Bermuda.

While the notes did not officially foreclose the possibility of a later Big Five session, it was reported from informed sources in Bermuda that the Western powers had agreed to resist any effort by Russia to set up such a conference.

International Board Suggested as Step Toward Control

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — President Eisenhower's bold new proposal for an international atomic energy pool put squarely up to Russia today a fateful decision on cooperation with the West.

Andrei Vishinsky, chief Soviet delegate to the United Nations said "it is necessary to study" the President's proposal. U.N. diplomats declared that a favorable Soviet response could greatly advance prospects for eventual control of the atom—while a rejection would further harden the East-West deadlock on this issue.

Eisenhower, fresh from the Bermuda conference, where he got the backing of Prime Minister Churchill and French Premier Laniel for his action, told the U.N. General Assembly late yesterday the United States was ready to join immediately in secret talks on setting up an international atomic energy agency to which qualified nations would contribute atomic material for peaceful purposes.

But he said Russia would have to be one of the participating nations. He did not name other nations, but it was learned he considers Britain, which produces atomic materials, and Australia, South Africa, Canada and Belgium, which produce uranium, the raw material source, also should be included.

The revolutionary nature of the President's proposal—the thing that made many U. N. delegates think it just might prove acceptable to Russia—was that it would not require prior agreement on an acceptable system of international inspection of atomic plants in all countries because it avoids for the moment the whole question of elimination of atomic arms.

Instead, it calls for creation of a practical operating body under the banner of the U. N. which would engage in strictly peaceful use of atomic materials for the maximum benefit of the greatest possible number of nations. For example, the agency could establish a plant to furnish atomic power in some area without adequate power resources.

The apparent belief of American officials is that if the free nations and Russia could cooperate in such an undertaking, learning to work together in so complicated and delicate a field, they might gain mutual confidence which would eventually lead to a workable system of international atomic energy control and abolition of atomic weapons. Seven years of negotiation on this issue in the United Nations have produced no results.

Alternate To Chaos

Eisenhower made his proposal after a somber warning that the alternative to effective international action on the atom will be the probable destruction of cilization in an atomic war. He said it was not enough for nations to erect defenses, which can never be ade-

Ike's Request Bold Stroke in Minds of Many

Congressmen Discern Merit in Plan; Issue Of Controls Is Raised

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's proposal for an international sharing of atomic energy knowledge and materials for nonmilitary uses was cheered by many lawmakers today as a bold stroke for peace.

But at the same time doubts were voiced that Congress would give its approval for any contributions to a United Nations atomic agency unless there was advance agreement on foolproof international inspection within participating nations.

Doubts Plan Would Work

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo), a member of the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee, said in an interview he doubts the U.N. is in any position to exercise necessary controls over atomic energy information. He said the U.N. certainly couldn't be counted upon to prevent or control atomic warfare.

Sen. Knowland of California, Republican floor leader and also a member of the Senate-House atomic committee, said he fears the President's proposal would be workable only if "full safeguards are established to make certain that we are not converting from weapons to power plants while the Soviet Union was busily engaged in stockpiling weapons."

Knowland added, however, he regards the President's speech as a far-reaching proposal. He said Russia's reaction "may finally demonstrate whether or not that government is . . . bent on aggression when they have built up their atomic capabilities and stockpiles."

Chance To Show Faith

Similarly, Rep. Arends (R-Ill) said the Eisenhower proposal "provides Soviet Russia with an opportunity to demonstrate to the world at large the peaceful intentions she has professed so often."

Rep. Durham (D-NC) said he thinks it will be "a long time before Congress will take the responsibility" of authorizing U.S. participation in an international atomic agency.

"It will not be easy to convince Congress that it is not some form of a foreign giveaway program,"

Man, 43, Pleads Guilty to Four Theft Charges

Lloyd Cornwell Bound Over to Grand Jury Under $5,000 Bond

Lloyd F. Cornwell, 43, of 605 Emerson Ave., pleaded guilty to four counts of grand larceny and embezzlement this morning before Municipal Judge W. Dexter Hazen who bound him over to the grand jury under a $5,000 bond.

Entering a plea of not guilty to two counts of receiving stolen property was Mrs. Sarah Bailey Dawson, 31, of 832 N. Main St. Preliminary hearing for her was set for 11 a.m. on Dec. 16 and bond was set at $1,500.

Bond Posted

Following the arraignment, Mrs. Dawson was released from custody after her mother posted the bond for her appearance. Cornwell was returned to the county jail.

Charges were filed against the

Suspended Scientist At Ft. Monmouth Is Recalled by McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), continuing a search for evidence of espionage at the Army Signal Corps Laboratories at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., recalled today a suspended civilian scientist to listen to testimony about himself.

The scientist is Aaron H. Coleman, 45, of Long Branch, N. J., who was suspended by the Army last September from his $9,600-a-year research job. Coleman, who said yesterday his position gave him access to secret material, at previous secret hearings had denied Communist or espionage activities.

In advance of today's hearing by the Senate investigations subcommittee he heads, McCarthy told newsmen he wanted Coleman "to hear more major testimony" about himself before returning to the witness chair.

The senators did not name those called to testify about Coleman.

McCarthy announced yesterday he will refer to the Justice Department, with a recommendation for a grand jury inquiry, a transcript of testimony by and about Coleman. He indicated he thought perjury had been committed.

In a brief appearance yesterday, Coleman affirmed the accuracy of testimony he had given at a secret subcommittee session in October. In it, he denied Communist ties or association at Ft. Monmouth in the 1940s with Julius Rosenberg, ex-

Hope of Soviet OK Expressed In West Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin acted today like a man who holds the winning ticket in a multimillion dollar lottery and is afraid somebody will declare it counterfeit.

City officials, hotel men and shopkeepers are keeping their fingers crossed, fervently hoping Moscow will accept the Allied proposal for a Big Four meeting in Berlin Jan. 4.

Damages Set At $2,000 From Blaze at Office

Combustion Blamed in Water Company Fire; Firemen List 2 Others

Spontaneous combustion was blamed for a fire which caused some $2,000 damage at the Marion Water Co. office at 193-95 E. Center St. early today.

The blaze apparently broke out shortly after midnight and Central station firemen were called out at 12:22 a.m. when one of the residents living in apartments above the office smelled the smoke.

Starts in Cabinet

Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt said the fire started in a cabinet in a one-story storage room at the rear of the building. He said that oily rags and wax mops used for cleaning purposes in the office burst into open flame from spontaneous combustion.

The fire roared from the cabinet and the wall behind the cabinet then burned through the roof, Chief Sifritt said.

Smoke from the blaze also filtered through the building and drove all residents in second and third floor apartments at the front of the building into the street, firemen reported. Those living in the apartments are Mrs. Jack Barford, owner of the building; Miss Opal Donithen, Mr. and Mrs. Don Chandler, Mrs. Mildred Keir, Lucille Madison and Anna Machinson and children.

Firemen had the blaze under control in 30 minutes and the fire was completely extinguished in an hour and 10 minutes, Chief Sifritt said.

City firemen were also called out two other times during the night.

Auto Damaged

At 8:20 p.m., W. Center St. station firemen answered a call to 1245 E. Center St. where an automobile driven by Raymond Steinkamp of 547 N. Prospect St. caught fire when anti-freeze boiled from the radiator onto the hot engine. Damage to the hood and wiring was estimated at $10 by firemen.

W. Center St. station firemen were called out again at 2:15 a.m. this morning when sparks were blown from a bonfire at the rear of the residence of Michael Thompson at 310 Glad St. and threatened nearby buildings. The fire was extinguished with no loss, firemen reported.

'Increasing Daily'

U.S. Stockpile Growing, Eisenhower Informs U.N.

By ELTON FAY
AP Military Affairs Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Esenhower says the U.S. stockpile of atomic weapons is increasing "daily." In 1946 one test of two bombs was believed to have consumed what was then the whole stockpile.

Just what did the President mean to imply by the necessarily guarded language he used yesterday about the stockpile in his United Nations speech?

Clues to U. S. Arsenal

Is the increase a weapon a day? A fraction of a weapon a day? Several weapons a day? That information, of course, is top secret. But here are some materials for thought:

1. The United States stockpile is believed to have passed the 1,000 mark some time ago, perhaps soon after the outbreak of the Korean War gave impetus to the production program. And atomic energy officials have said publicly that the rate of production, as well as the total produced, was due to increase.

2. When in 1946 the United States exploded two test bombs at Bikini Atoll they were understood to be the only two finished weapons in existence.

Mentions H-Bomb

That was a year after the world's first nuclear fission explosion had occurred in the Alamogordo, N. M., reservation and two others had been used on Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

The President spoke in "the language of atomic warfare" when he made his urgent plea for peace: Of a hydrogen weapon with the force of millions of tons of exploding TNT.

Of new atomic bombs 25 times mightier than the missiles "with which the atomic age dawned" only eight years ago—and thus unleashing energy equivalent to a half-million tons of TNT.

Of the long string of atomic explosions produced by the United

Christmas Mailing Hours Set at Three Postal Sub-Stations

Special Christmas season hours for postal stations in Marion were announced today by postmaster Homer D. Cole. The stations are located at Zahn's Variety Store, 452 W. Center St., Warwick's Variety Store, 128 E. Fairground St.; and Willey Electric Co., 666 Woodrow Ave.

The station at Zahn's will be open for service from 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. on the following dates: Dec. 11, 12, 14, 18, 19, 21, 22, and 23.

At Warwick's, the station will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily, including Sundays, until Dec. 23. The late service there has already started.

The station at the Willey Electric Co. will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily, except Sundays, from Dec. 12 through Dec. 23

Mobile X-Ray Unit To Visit City This Week

The mobile chest X-ray unit will be in Marion to offer free TB chest X-rays Friday and Saturday, according to an announcement by Mrs. W. E. Hane, president of the Marion County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

The X-rays will be sponsored by the association in cooperation with the County Health Department and financed from the sale of Christmas Seals.

The unit will be parked in front of the County Courthouse and will operate Friday from 1 to 5 p.m. and 6 to 9 p.m. On Saturday the operating hours will be from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 2 p.m. to 6 p.m.

The registration will take place in the office of the County Health Department located in the basement of the courthouse with the health department staff assisting.

Judge Edward J. Ruzzo, chairman of this year's Christmas Seal sale, urges everyone who hasn't had an X-ray this year to avail themselves of this service and to support the organization that makes this service possible by sending in their Christmas Seal contribution.

Army Trucks To Help In Holiday Mail Rush

Marion's Postoffice will use Army Quartermaster Corps trucks during the Christmas rush to deliver packages and mail. One arrived today from the Army Depot in Columbus, and two more will be sent here in the near future, a postoffice spokesman said.

Drivers for the trucks will be furnished by the local postoffice. Permission for the use of other Army trucks was also granted to postal authorities in Columbus and Portsmouth.

Presses Roll Again in N.Y.

Engravers, Publishers Ink Pact After 11 Days

NEW YORK (AP)—The city's biggest newspapers resumed publication today, bringing news and ads to millions of readers after the worst strike in the history of New York journalism.

AFL photo-engravers and the publishers agreed yesterday, the 11th day of the strike, to a fact-finding board proposed by federal mediators.

The engravers will receive an immediate $3.75 weekly package increase.

Hours later, New York's three struck morning papers—the Times, Daily News and Daily Mirror—had todays edition on the streets. The Herald Tribune, the city's lone major daily which was not struck, carried its first ads in nine days in an 88-page paper.

Meanwhile, the three struck afternoon newspapers — the Journal-American, Post, and World-Telegram and The Sun—worked to put out their first post-strike editions today.

Service Guild Project

Christmas Clearinghouse Here To Open Thursday

The "Give A Christmas" Clearinghouse will open Thursday for the fourth consecutive year at the Salvation Army Headquarters on N. Prospect St. and will remain open until Dec. 24th. The Clearinghouse is under the sponsorship of the Marion County Junior Service Guild.

The Guild does not solicit nor deliver Christmas baskets, but provides a service to aid both donors and recipients of Christmas baskets, toys and clothing.

The Clearinghouse maintains a secretary who has confidential files containing names and information of needy families supplied by churches, individuals and welfare agencies.

Her work is to help suggest a family to anyone wishing to give a basket; to check from the list any family to whom the caller is planning to give a basket; and to check the records of families already taken care of so that duplication and omission will be avoided or to accept new names of families who may need a basket.

Last year 327 names were given out to organizations, individuals and clubs who wished to share the spirit of Christmas, and the same number of names were cleared through the "Give a Christmas" Clearinghouse.

The "Give a Christmas" desk will be open tomorrow, Dec. 10 through Dec. 24 from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. The secretary may be contacted by calling 3-2415.

The deadline for accepting new names will be noon of Dec. 23. This time limit is necessary to enable the welfare committee to investigate properly before any name is placed on the list.

Snow, Sub-Zero Cold Hit Midwest

By The Associated Press

Wintry weather, with snow and sub-zero temperatures, hit wide areas in western and midwestern states today.

In contrast, unseasonably mild weather prevailed over most of the eastern third of the nation.

The cold weather in the Rocky Mountain section followed snow storms which swept the region yesterday. Temperatures dropped to zero or lower early today. Snowfalls in the cold belt ranged up to 8½ inches at Akron, Colo.

Illness To Idle Ohio GOP Chairman Until January

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A reported virus infection and a possible nervous condition may keep state Republican chairman Ray C. Bliss away from his office until after the first of next year.

Ohio Republican headquarters here says it doesn't expect him back until then. Bliss has been in an Akron hospital several days.

Delegation Packing Up

U.S. Ready To Break Off Korean Conference Talks

PANMUNJOM (AP)—U. S. envoy Arthur H. Dean threatened today to break off the tottering preliminary Korean peace talks unless progress is made in a reasonable time and meanwhile, the Allied delegation prepared to head home for Christmas.

"It is apparent that the American delegation will be out of here before Dec. 20," one high source said. "Our boys are packing."

Communist insistence on Russia attending the peace conference as a neutral observer rather than as a voting participant has stalemated negotiations to arrange the peace talks.

Won't Be Bullied

Dean told the Reds he would not be bullied into accepting Russia as a neutral and warned that he would continue the negotiations only as long as there is a "reasonable chance" of success.

He said he had full authority from the 17 Allied nations he represents to walk out whenever he feels there is no chance of reaching agreement.

Meanwhile, another 30 South Korean war prisoners who refused repatriation unanimously reaffirmed their decision to remain under Communist rule.

Expects Some To Return

Allied explainers have talked with 220 ROK prisoners without getting a single one to change his mind. Thirty of the 108 remaining to be interviewed will be called up Thursday.

When the South Koreans are completed early next week, 22 Americans and 1 Briton who stayed with the Communists will

Church Leader Visits Marion

Rev. Clemmons Meets With Epworth Group

Meeting with a group of young adults at Epworth Methodist Church Monday night, a national leader of the denomination, Rev. Robert S. Clemmons of Nashville, Tenn., directed discussion of opportunities in the church for their age level. He represents the Department of Christian Education of Adults, General Board of Education of the Methodist Church, with headquarters at Nashville.

What young adults can contribute to the church, their importance in the church in regard to their own individual living, and in the community, and in activites of service were considered.

The session was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. George Bull. Fellowship singing led by Mrs. George Lane included carols. Prayer was by the pastor, Rev. W. C. Eyster, and he introduced the speaker.

Technique of conducting small group discussions was shown in a film, after which those present divided into four sections for participation in the conversation concerning the principles and philosophy of the young adult's church life and in suggestions for their cooperation in phases of the church's progam.

A summary at the close dealt with the outlook for Epworth Church's future in its young adult members. Miss Margaret Huffman announced a "field trip" for next Sunday when a visit will be made to the new laboratory cottages at the Methodist Children's Home at Worthington. Arrangements have been made for care of young children at the farm home of Rev. and Mrs. S. M. Ingmire near Columbus while the parents make the tour of the children's home. Mrs. Guy Rank and Mrs. Jennie Ewing will oversee the care of the youngsters and will assist Mrs. Ingmire as hostess for a potluck supper for the families. Rev. Ingmire is a former pastor of Epworth Church.

Preceding the meeting of Rev. Clemmons with the group at the church, he visited points of interest in the city.

Machinists, Lockheed Reach Wage Agreement

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—The AFL International Assn. of Machinists and Lockheed Aircraft Corp. have reached an agreement on wages for 27,000 employes of the company in its four California plants.

Details of the agreement were withheld, however, pending submission of the contract to a union membership meeting Sunday. A joint announcement said yesterday the agreement provides for a blanket wage increase, increases in rate ranges, improvements in group insurance and other benefits for workers in the Burbank, Van Nuys, Beverly Hills and Palmdale plants.

Bucyrus Residents Top Bloodmobile Goal Again

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus area blood donors went "over the top" here Monday for the fifth consecutive time this year as the Red Cross bloodmobile paid its fifth and final visit of the year.

A total of 171 pints was contributed by about 180 donors to mark the fifth straight time in 1953 that the goal of 150 pints has been exceeded. Mrs. Helen S. Weaver, Red Cross chapter executive secretary, pointed out. Yesterday's visit was sponsored by several granges in the county and the Crawford Farm Bureau Cooperative Association.

In four previous visits, 661 pints of blood were collected. Yesterday's donations brought the year's total up to 832 pints.

Chicago Girl Sets Record for Round World Plane Trip

CHICAGO (AP)—A young brunette flew into Chicago Tuesday to break by eight hours the record time for rounding the world as a commercial air lines passenger.

"It was the best weekend trip I ever had," said pretty Pamela Martin as she stepped from a United Air Liner at Chicago's Midway Airport. She started her trip there at noon Friday.

She had covered the route in 90 hours and 59 minutes. She had only 10 hours sleep along the way but told waiting newsmen she felt "fresh as a daisy."

The 23-year-old advertising copywriter-artist said she was "too excited to sleep much" and she looks forward to making the trip again—but with this difference: Next time she will take time out "to see those cities."

The record Miss Martin broke was something over 99 hours, set by Maj. Horace Boren, an official of Braniff Airlines.

District Scouters' Meeting Scheduled

Marion district officers of the Harding Area Boy Scout Council will be elected at the annual business and dinner meeting of the Marion district in the Camp Owens dining hall Thursday at 7 p.m.

Officers to be elected will include the Marion district chairman, district vice chairman, district commissioner, assistant district commissioner and also the six operating committee chairmen. Various members at large of the district will also be elected.

Dean Johnson, district Scout executive, said every institution which sponsors a Scout unit in Marion County has been asked to send a representative.

Objectives for the coming year will be set and a brief outline of the work of the district for the past year will be given. Dr. James Greetham of Marion, district chairman for 1953, will preside at the meeting.

New officers will be installed by Dr. R. T. Gray of Prospect, outgoing council president.

In 1950 there were about 15 million Negroes in the United States.

No Peace in Korea

There will be no Korean peace conference, barring a diplomatic miracle which no one expects. The negotiations at Panmunjom have reached a deadlock.

Even if a conference were to come unexpectedly from the negotiations, it would take a miracle to get a peace treaty out of the irreconcilable differences between the two sides in the Korean war.

The question then is whether these differences will erupt in a resumption of violent warfare or whether they can be held in the same precarious balance they have been held in since July 26, when the truce began.

The North Koreans and Chinese have conceded nothing. They have shown their contempt of peace by their conduct in the negotiations to set up a peace conference. They have no interest in a peace treaty.

Whether they are permitted by a stalemate to exert continuous pressure on South Korea by trade and propaganda, or whether some overt military move by South Korea gives them an excuse to overrun it, they have everything to gain and nothing to lose by refusing to tie their hands.

They remember that President Syngman Rhee said last July that he expected the worst. "I have opposed the signing of the truce," he said, "because of my conviction that it will prove to be the prelude to more war, not less; to more suffering and ruin; to further Communist advances by war and by subversion."

The United States has no illusions about bringing real peace to Korea. It lost them during three years and thirty-two days of bitter fighting.

Soldier's Code

Nothing in the Uniform Code of Military Justice as brought up to date in 1949 specifically covers the case of the United States soldiers, marines and aviators who were tortured into making statements while they were prisoners of war that their government was carrying on germ warfare in Korea.

The code provides that prisoners of war who go contrary to law or custom to get favorable treatment shall be punished as a court-martial directs, but this provision was not made in the light of such cruel and unusual tortures as were used by the North Korean and Chinese Communists.

Torturing helpless prisoners is not new in warfare but its large-scale practice as an instrumentality of propaganda is new. The question in the case of the young Americans who were its victims in Korea is whether or not there is any excuse for breaking under pressure.

It is painfully evident, of course, that there is no sound comparison between their situation and that of ordinary civilians. The soldier's code is infinitely stricter in this respect; it calls for fortitude in the face of danger which would never be expected from civilians.

The men who broke under pressure in Korea are going to be dealt with as individuals. Each one will be judged according to the circumstances of his situation while he was held prisoner.

No one is in a position to pass arbitrary judgment on the victims of the systematic brutality which has been developed by the Communists into a deadly weapon in the 20th century battle for men's minds.

No Public Right

If the Atlantic Coast shipping industry had announced it would suspend activity for an indefinite period beginning Christmas Eve, the antitrust division of the Department of Justice would prosecute immediately for violation of the Sherman Act.

The public interest would be protected.

Any decision to take joint action against the public welfare of the United States would be evidence of a violation of antitrust laws by members of the shipping industry.

Yet the shipping industry will be closed down Christmas Eve by the International Longshoremen's Association and nothing will be done about it, unless the federal government obtains a further extension of an injunction first granted last October under the Taft-Hartley Act.

The injunction was granted to keep the Atlantic Coast shipping industry from being paralyzed by a squabble among competing unionists. The squabble was the climax of years of racketeering and corruption on the waterfronts. Conditions finally were revealed by outsiders to be so bad the American Federation of Labor took away the International Longshoremen's Association's charter and set up a rival union.

This sparked a civil war among longshoremen on the Atlantic Coast. Were it not for the injunction process authorized by the Taft-Hartley Act, the warring factions could tie up the whole country while they battled to the death.

This is the law that union executives say must be junked so there will be no interference when they close down industries and endanger the public interest.

As far as union executives are concerned, the public has no right to protect its interest —a position that Congress should hold firmly in mind while dealing with their demand that the Taft-Hartley Act be revised to suit their needs.

Pearl Harbor Secret

By David Lawrence

Truth About December 7 Attack Never Established

Twelve years ago this week the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor—and the general impression in America ever since then has been that the war came unexpectedly and suddenly, without warning of any kind.

This is fallacious, and it is important to refute such a notion because wars do not come without warning.

The nation expected war with Japan. There was absolutely no justification for the failure of the Army and Navy chiefs in Washington to establish the kind of defense against attack which would have prevented the loss of more than 3,000 American lives.

NOT ONLY was the fleet kept in the harbor when it should have been at sea, but the army did not have the necessary planes in Hawaii to thwart an airplane attack launched from the decks of naval aircraft carriers in the event that the first line of defense—the Navy—was penetrated

The American People were aware of the prospect of war with Japan, but why, therefore, did not the Army and Navy know that war conditions were virtually begun several days before December 7, 1941, when the attack on Pearl Harbor occurred?

This correspondent reflected in his dispatches prior to the fatal December 7 the awareness of official Washington on the gravity of the war crisis.

ON DECEMBER 1, 1941, this correspondent wrote:

"If the United States and Japan are on the verge of war—and the headlines would seem to indicate it, as do also the strange maneuvers behind the scenes—then it is the first time in history of the United States that a major war approaches without informing the American people of just what the issues are and why war is so essential to the settlement of the difficulties."

ON DECEMBER 2, 1941, this correspondent wrote as follows:

"For reasons best known to the exponents of secret diplomacy, the United States is taking the lead in the Far East. One wonders what the President will say to Congress if war between Japan and the United States does come

"That's one reason why it is desired to do nothing to take the initiative in a military way, leaving the aggression to be an act of the Japanese."

The same day Prime Minister Churchill had announced that, if war came between the United States and Japan, Great Britain would within an hour declare war against Japan.

ON DEEMBER 2, 1941, after speculating where the "overt act" might come, the writer said:

"War with Japan means war between the United States and Germany, too. But even this risk is in the minds of high officials as one that cannot deter the United States from standing firm in its relations with Japan.

"The situation has not taken on a final pattern, however. The chance for a peaceful settlement is dependent on the absence or presence of an overt act that can at any moment end the discussions and conversations between the two governments."

Most of the dispatches written by this correspondent in the days prior to the break were taken up with arguments as to how peace could be maintained.

IT WAS SUGGESTED that an agreement to preserve the status quo of the military forces be worked out so that peace conversations could proceed without threat of interruption by an overt act.

The gravity of the whole situation was described to the newspaper correspondents by Sumner Welles, under secretary of state, several days before the attack came at Pearl Harbor.

The press reflected the seriousness of the turn of affairs in our relations with Japan. War was definitely in the headlines. Yet somebody in the military services in Washington blundered.

The necessary orders to make sure the Army and Navy were on the alert at Hawaii were never issued—and there never was a courtmartial of Admiral Kimmel and General Short, both of whom demanded it in vain.

The truth of what did happen inside the military establishment in Washington has never been fixed, and the blame has never been imposed where it belonged.

The Bad Old Days

By TRUMAN TWILL

The only good thing about the old days was the fact all of us were younger and could stand more punishment.

Aside from that, they were the bad old days. An automobile tire cost $50 and was guaranteed to run only 500 miles without blowing out, provided it didn't run over a rock big enough to "bruise" it.

Whenever one of the kids in the neighborhood caught pneumonia, the other kids began to speak about him in the past tense before he had reached the "crisis"—and they were usually right.

Keeping milk from turning sour was a job for black magicians and babies were lucky if they weren't killed in their cribs by germs passed along via filthy barns and unwashed hands.

Clothing had a built-in stench from years of wear without benefit of dry-cleaning. Washable fabrics had to be given the benefit of a doubt because soap was scarce, crude and likely to destroy more than it saved. Water was hard, often contaminated and there were no washing compounds.

Bedrooms were cold as tombs in winter and hotter than ovens in summer, unless the windows were kept open, which let in a few zillion of the myriads of flies that spread contamination at will.

From the January thaw to the beginning of May, life outside the city limits was an endless floundering in a sea of mud. Inside the city limits it was an endless floundering in a sea of inky slush, because storm sewers hadn't been built.

Food was an endless round of whatever was locally obtainable. In winter it was salt pork, leathery ham and enbalmed tidbits which had been canned in a dubious manner and had to be eaten with a thought to ptomaine poisoning. Weevils got into the flour and frost got into the potatoes. Dried beans and preserved eggs helped to sustain life. An orange was a big deal.

A family with the bad luck to end up with a poor cook lived like dogs. Everything had to be prepared on the premises Even the baking soda to ease indigestion. There was no packaged cereal for breakfast, nothing that could be bought in a can at the store and warmed up for a decent meal, nothing to relieve the monotony—not even a candy bar.

The coffee was frequently rancid, also the lard. "Country butter" was a phrase which made strong men feel faint.

A person with bad eyesight was out of luck because glasses fitting was restricted to magnifying lenses. Transportation at its best was a smoky ordeal in a creaking train and at its worst was an interminable inspection of the rear quarters of a horse going in the same direction.

Educated people were no better educated than they are now, and they were few and far between. Illitrate ones, on the other hand, were everywhere and their handicap sat astride them like a monstrous beast, grinding them into poverty and hopelessness.

Even politics, which many critics think has reached an all-time low, was immeasurably worse in the bad old days. Name-calling was a way of life, and no holds were barred, even to slanders and libels against the good women who had the bad fortune to be married to men in public life.

There were no hot-water tanks, no shower baths, no sedatives, no raincoats, no overshoes and no miracle drugs. People were sicklier, dirtier, worse dressed and less informed. Anyone who moons and moans about the good old days is giving away the fact he isn't able to appreciate the good new ones.

Reuther Renews Annual Wage Fight

By Raymond Moley

Last week in Detroit public interest in Sen. McCarthy and his opponents and friends was closely pressed by concern about CIO President Walter Reuther's sword-rattling over the old issue of a guaranteed annual wage.

He seems to have been speaking mainly as a member of the Automobile Workers Union rather than as CIO president, but the fact that the steel workers' contract expires considerably before the automobile workers' contract turns the question back to David McDonald, head of the steel workers.

There are indications that McDonald will move cautiously, but that next spring the steel negotiations will begin with a demand for a 50-week guarantee. Then, according to people accustomed to such negotiations, the demand will drop to 40 weeks.

IF THE UNION should get that, it would be in a position to demand increases every time there is a new contract.

There seems to be no need for alarm by employers about a real fight over a complete annual guarantee in the immediate future. McDonald himself has cautioned against that.

A modification of the idea is to require a guarantee confined only to men of high seniority. Then, when slack times come, the men of low seniority would be first to be laid off.

Management would then spread out the work as well as possible among those under the guarantee.

The fact is that management generally has been trying to spread employment for a long time

THIS THREAT will simply sharpen the effort to have plans ready for the next recession.

The extent to which anything like yearly employment can be provided, whether guaranteed by contract or not, depends upon the nature of the industry.

Newspapers and magazines, which would seem to be fairly well able to provide some sort of assurance, apparently have never ben asked by the unions, for guarantees.

Perhaps the unions follow a policy of not asking for a guarantee when they feel sure that they can get it anyhow.

It reminds me of the man who rushed to a bank upon which there was a run of depositors. "If my money's here," he said, "I don't want it. If it ain't here, I want it."

INDUSTRIES, however, in which completition is very keen and in which regularity of demand cannot be anticipated can do nothing but resist demands for a guaranteed annual wage with everything they have. The automobile industry is the big example of that kind.

Men high in the management of that industry say that they could guarantee annual wages but only at the sacrifice of economic freedom. They could severely limit production and put prices up. That would mean a greatly reduced working staff.

It would mean standardization of models.

It would mean agreements among the companies which would not be allowed now under the anti-trust laws.

In short, a cartel could guarantee employment to a limited number of workers.

THAT WOULD MEAN less and less production of real wealth. It would be the imposition upon industry of something like totalitarian control.

It would mean less employment generally and a lower standard of living.

This is what the political and economic philosophy of Walter Reuther comes down to, whether he will admit it or not. He is basically a believer in statism and only by occupation a labor boss.

We shall see in 1955 which of these personal interests gets the upper hand in the Reuther mind.

A Side Quarrel Eased

By MARK DANA

The fact that the world's key nations are now going into huddles to clarify, to discuss and possibly to resolve some of their differences, is stimulating some other countries to get off fences on one side or the other, also to curb internal scrapping, and to don their Sunday-best garb.

The Greek King and Queen recently came over to show us how nice the Greeks are. Largely because the U. S. kept snapping its purse catches open and shut, Iran has smiled at Great Britain again. Italy and Yugoslavia, perturbed about what the Bermuda conference might bring forth, and wanting to be in their best bargaining and most receptive positions, announce happily they are withdrawing their troops from the border in order to "normalize" the border situation anew, after much exchange of snarling over Trieste.

No doubt the U. S. and Britain will fulfill ultimately their plan to withdraw their peace-maintenance troops from Zone A of Trieste and step aside to let Italy take over that zone A area if Italy can do so.

Italy seems to be placing confidence reliance on the potential backing of the North Atlantic Treaty Organiation, to which she belongs, even though such reliance may be sudden, belated or tentative.

The paper validity of the adjudication by the U. S. and Britain also has at least paper weight with Italy, which yearns for unquestioned respectability among the Big Powers, perhaps in the belief that as efforts pregress to sesure a definite showdown among world countries on communism versus non-communism, the communistic setup in Yugoslavia will be listed among the black sheep.

At any rate, the reality of the Bermuda conference, and plans for Big Four or Big Five parleys later, naturally have made lesser powers more alert for their own interests, plus closer examination of the ground on both sides of the alliance fence in case very soon they may be expected to jump off a pivotal and wobbling top rail.

Bicycling Oldsters

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Elza Barrett, 72, and his brother Sam, 70, retired Chesapeake & Ohio railroaders, are unusual sights in this modern city of 85,000. They ride bicycles all the time—for business as well as pleasure.

Both used to drive cars but neither does any more.

Sam explained that he had an automobile more than 25 years ago but just "got tired of it" and switched to the bicycle.

Elza switched last year when an insurance company refused to write a liability policy on his car because he is over 70.

The Garble Sisters

"Well, I see President Eisenhower is in Bermuda for the Big Three conference on how to get that spy-hunt witness out of Canada."

"I don't see why Ontario let Brooklyn get the other fellow."

"Russia is trying to break it up by coming out for a Big Four meeting at Trieste in color television."

"Yeah. They say Moscow has a color TV tube that can fly the ocean both ways jet propelled."

"This can be the big issue in the 1954 election, no matter what President Eisenhower may hold. Do you think that Marshall issue will play any part?"

"What Marshall issue?"

"The issue whether he should have got the Nobel Peace prize or whether it belonged to whoever stopped the war on the Arthur Godfrey program."

"Oh, I'm glad to see Marshall get it. He did okay in the only world series game they used him in. Speaking of baseball, did you see where La Rosa was voted the most valuable player in the National League?"

"He deserved it whether he signed up with a personal agent without notifying the front office or not."

"What do you make of the Harry Ambidextrous Smythe case"

"I think it was right for Dulles not to pardon him so soon. They are keeping him in prison to trap others."

"It seems funny to me that Truman didn't get those letters which Herbert Hoover sent to Charlie Vaughan telling him there should be time off for good behavior no matter who was running the monetary fund with perfumed notes."

"Yes, but the point to bear in mind is that there may still be two snollygoster cells operating in our government."

"What do you think of the trial of Sergei Mossadegh"

"I don't think he knows a thing about that Brinks armored car robbery, do you"

"No, and its a shame to drag in his son at Massachussetts Tech. He was never even before a Senate committee."

"Did you pay much attention to that baseball tour of Asia by big - league American clubs"

"Not much. I see all the players are back home except Nixon."

A glimpse into what TV entertainment can be when it tries was given through the "Omnibus" presentation of a playlet that was a sheer delight. It was "The Horn Blows at Midnight," which touched the best of O. Henry, Shaw and Barrie.

Jack Benny never appeared in a better sketch in his career, but it pained us to hear everybody given ample credit except the authors, who got a mention only at the tailend of the credit lines. We could catch only the names of Hugh Wedlock and Lew Davis, but their work was so far above the usual gag-writer routine as to be sensational.

The playlet had to do with a decision by the gods to destroy the earth "which has always been the most troublesome of all the planets."

Benny, a failure as a rookie angel, is sent down to destroy it by a bugle blast at midnight, but through a meeting with a child, a charming old lady and a young couple in love, is diverted . . . The interlude where Benny meets the gentle old lady who has won a jackpot contest and MUST go to Hawaii by plane, after a Stork Club dinner with Governor Dewey, was terrific. Howls met her plaintive, "They painted my house inside and out. I liked it better the old way."

Returns from our two - week canvass of Brooklyn fans on their recently named new manager are in, and we herewith give a few:

Mergantroyd Gilhooley, tax driver: "Alston? I knew a parlor car by that name once."

Judson Finnecoff, tavern proprietor: "He's from Canada. Why didn't they get that guy who collaborated with Quentin Reynolds?"

T. Preston Cosokolcz, subway trackman: "He only seen one game in Ebbet's Field in his life. This could explain why he took the job and looks happy."

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

John J. Crawley was born in New York City in 1848 and when he was nine years old his parents died and he was taken to Tuscola, Ill. There he attracted the attention of Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the National House of Representatives, who sent him to the University of Illinois. When the 25th Regiment, Indiana Volunteer Infantry went to the front he was taken along as an attache of one of the companies. In May 1864 he enlisted in Company G., as a drummer boy, but served mainly as a private seeing service in Missouri guarding bridges across the river and taking part in a number of small skirmishes along the Missouri Pacific Railroad. He later was connected with the Huber Mfg. Co. and also was in YMCA work.

Child Takes First Steps With Artificial Limbs

BOSTON (AP)—Doctors and nurses at Carney Hospital cheered yesterday when 19-month-old Constance di Stasi walked a few steps for the first time in her life.

The child has an artificial left leg, an artificial right foot and an artificial right hand.

Her limbs were amputated 11 months ago to save her life after it was discovered she suffered from a rare condition which affected blood circulation and caused gangrene.

Doctors said she is one of the few triple amputees of her age and perhaps the youngest child to be fitted with artificial limbs.

Audit Report Cites Pomeroy's Mayor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state auditor's office said today Pomeroy Mayor Delmar Canaday used money from fines and costs to make a "wide variety of unauthorized disbursements." The auditor issued a finding for $4,293.51 against him.

Canaday said the expenditures were made because the Village Council refused to approve payment of bills.

The mayor wrote 28 checks against his official fund to pay bills; 13 of them bore the notation the council refused payment.

The examiner's report says the mayor has no authority to disburse fines and costs except as the law specifies and he has no authority to incur obligations on the part of the municipal corporation except as provided by council.

Bouquets of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums decorated the altar of Emanuel Lutheran Church for the wedding of Miss Joan A. Anderson and Roy H. Schervish Sunday afternoon, Nov. 22. The ceremony was read at 2:30 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. M. E. Hollensen. Wedding music was by Mrs. William Ackerman, organist.

The bride is the daughter of Paul L. Anderson of Davids St. and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Amelia Vlachos of Marion.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballarina-length dress of chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin. The bodice, was a fitted jacket with a stand up collar and long sleeves ending with points over the hands. A Juliet lace cap held her shoulder length veil of French illusion. She carried a white Bible belonging to her sister-in-law, Mrs. P. R. Anderson, topped with a lavender orchid and wore a pair of pearl and rhinestone earrings, gift of the bridegroom. The matron-of-honor, Mrs. Loretta Andrews, of Oxford, wore an emerald green, ballarina-length gown of satin. The neck was fashioned into a scoop type with a fitted bodice accented with scallops at the waistline. Mrs. Nancy Anderson and Lillian Hill, bridesmaids wore identical gowns in bronze satin. All three carried colonial bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums and pompoms. Their head dress was yellow pompoms in a tiara effect.

Connie Vlachos, sister of the bridegroom, who was the flower girl, wore a gold satin gown styled like the attendants. She carried a small bouquet of bronze mums and pompoms and wore a tiara also in bronze.

Mr. Schervish's best man was Jack J. Fye and ushers were Ted Massuros, Paul R. Anderson, Robert E. Hill and Thomas Vlachos.

A reception for 100 guests follower in the church parlors. Baskets of bronze chrysanthemums decorated the entrance to the parlors. The bridal table was centered with a three tiered cake, topped with a minature bride and bridegroom. Surrounding the cake were small yellow and bronze pompoms and two three-branch candelabra were at either end of the table. Serving as hostesses were Miss Sylvia Schervish, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Robert W. Anderson and Rachel Simmons.

When the couple left on their trip to New York City, the bride was wearing an ice blue dress, white and black accessories and her wedding orchid.

The bride graduated from Hading High School in 1950 and is employed with the Ohio Edison Co. The bridegroom was graduated from Zanesville High School, and later served with the Army for three years. He attended Ohio State University and is employed by the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co. as a sales representative.

Plans for the party were made at the club's meeting Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Francis Tracy of 893 Merkle Ave. at that meeting the club voted to donate $2 to the Ohio Memorial Forest. Devotions consisted of a reading by Mrs. Tracy. Mrs. James Ritzler read a paper on "New Things in Medicine."

House and Garden Unit Entertains at Luncheon Meeting

Members of the House and Garden Unit of the Marion Garden Club were hostesses for a guest luncheon and open meeting Friday at Hotel Harding. Sprigs of evergreen, red carnations and large red bows on the luncheon tables carried out the Yuletide theme and for the program, presented by Mrs. William Hutchman and Mrs. Ray Romine, the members and guests learned many new and interesting ideas for Christmas decorating. The guests were welcomed by Mrs. Paul Williams, president.

Mrs. Hutchman arranged four Christmas tables before the group. These included a child's table, novelty table and modern and conventional settings. For her modern setting she chose a red cloth for the background of a white scoop plate with black snowflakes, black cup and napkin and a black-footed tumbler. For flowers she selected carnations with foliage, and placed black candles in black wrought iron holders. Franciscan china with a gold scroll pattern on a green cloth was the conventional setting. The goblet was in a holly pattern and for decorations she used candles, evergreens and gilded magnolia leaves shaped into poinsettias. A woodsy scene with a tree, candles, Santa and reindeer was the children's table setting.

Mrs. Romine gave each one material to make a winter corsage and demonstrated how they are made. She also demonstrated the use of paints and glitter and told of many interesting and clever ways for creating outdoor effects, decorating doorways, halls and mantels, Madonnas and making candles.

Guests included Mrs. Dessie Struble of Chesterville, Miss Maxine Field, Mrs. Jay H. Maish, Mrs. P. D. Lockwood, Mrs. Gladys Arter, Mrs. Anna Wogan, Miss May Ella O'Brien, Miss Emma O'Brien, Mrs. Allen Bryant, Mrs. J. E. Scandling, Miss Audrey Bolander, Mrs. Kenneth Robinson and Mrs. Harry Amman.

Arrangements were made by the social committee, Mrs. H. G. Duhamel, Mrs. Carl E. Danner, Mrs. Forest Flockencier and Mrs. Homer R. Waddell.

Members of the Three Star Club gathered in the ballroom of Hotel Harding Monday night for their annual Christmas party.

Thirty-one women employes of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. in this district were present. Marion, Bucyrus, Crestline, Galion, Shelby, Willard, Ashland and Mansfield were represented.

Music, the singing of Christmas carols, and a Christmas gift exchange followed dinner.

Miss Elizabeth Haberman of the Marion office was chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the party. Others on the committee were Betty Searles, Betty Coon, Patricia McLain, Patricia Cox, Mary Jean Spaeth, DeEtta Beisler and Helen Zulauf.

Installation of officers for the new year was held when the Loyalty Bible Class of Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church met Thursday evening with Miss Elma Church on E. Center St. Serving as cohostesses were Mrs. W. E. Walker and Mrs. C. E. Ambruster.

Mrs. Charles Lamb took office as president; Mrs. L. E. Moore, vice president; Mrs. Homer Hartpence, secretary and treasurer. Mrs. F. E. Cline was in charge of the installation.

Mrs. K. P. Riley presided for the meeting, devotions were conducted by Mrs. Cline and the Bible study was led by Mrs. A. D. Imbody and Mrs. Ella Lucky. Nineteen members responded to roll call, 12 sick calls were reported, and guests were Mrs. Edna Johnston and Miss Elisabeth Starner. Also during the meeting, members drew names for hostesses and co-hostesses for the new year.

The Verne I. Mounts Post 368, American Legion of Prospect held its November meeting recently. It was voted to donate to the Wooden Church Crusade in western Germany. Plans were made to sponsor a Christmas party for the children of Prospect and for children of Legion members who do not live in Prospect. Fred Thacker Ralph Jones and Harry Shields, officers of the sixth district, American Legion of Ohio, were guests. Mr. Shields talked to the members about veterans' rehabilitation. Mr. Thacker and Mr. Jones congratulated the post for exceeding its membership quota by Nov. 11.

Fourteen members answered to roll call when the Delta Circle of the CCL at Prospect met at the school there. Devotions were by Mrs. Freeda Jones. Mrs. Phillip Hastings was welcomed into the circle. Plans were made for a husband's and guets' party in December. A white elephant sale was held. Mrs. Geneva Dobberstein, a guest gave a flannelgraph talk on Thanksgiving. Hostesses were: Mrs. Lillian Stose, Mrs. Hazel Annette and Mrs. Gladys Hoffman.

Mrs. Fae Baker of Waldo has gone to St. Petersburg, Fla. where she plans to remain for an extended visit.

—:—

Three birthday anniversaries were celebrated Sunday at the G. C. Chambers home near New Bloomington with a turkey dinner. The celebrants were Barbara and Mary Joyce Chambers, whose birth dates were Dec. 7 and Nov. 18, respectively, and Mr. Chambers whose birth date was Nov. 23. Present also were parents of the girls, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Chambers of near New Bloomington, and son, Thomas Chambers. Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Chambers are the grandparents. Guests at the Chambers home for Thanksgiving were Mrs. Emma Chambers and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chambers, all of Marion, and Irvin Corey of near New Bloomington.

When the Carpe Diem Club held its annual Christmas dinner party recently at Ringers Inn, secret sisters were revealed and names were drawn for the coming year. Mrs. Alice Risch, president, announced her committees for the year. The club voted to buy toys for a needy family, and a report on a Thanksgiving basket was made.

Mrs. Betty Grim gave the Christmas story for devotions, and Mrs. Ruth Shoots read "Silent Night." History of Christmas carols was given by Mrs. Donald Tower, and a paper, "Merry Christmas," was presented by Mrs. E. A. Williams, "The Birthday of Jesus" by Mrs. Dean Hinamon, and "The Star of Bethlehem" by Mrs. Martha Barkley.

Named on the committees were Mrs. Tower, Mrs. Shoots, Mrs Ruth Mitchell, Mrs. Mabel Brady, and Mrs. Josephine Young, program; Mrs. Grimm, Mrs. Barkley, Mrs. Velma Loudenslager, and Mrs. Mattie Peterson, social; Mrs. Blanche Lill and Mrs. Mary Risch, flowers; and Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Ora Hinamon, gifts.

Probe of Airlines Up to Committee, Bricker Declares

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Brciker (R—Ohio) said Tuesday he will let the Senate Commerce Committee decide in January whether a proposed broad investigation of commercial aviation should go ahead.

Bricker, the committee chairman, said in an interview it was immaterial to him whether the probe is made or dropped. But he said he felt the full 15-member committee should have a chance to pass on the matter.

The investigation originally was planned by the late Sen. Charles W. Tobey (R—NH), Bricker's predecessor as chairman. Tobey named a three-member subcommittee headed by Sen. John S. Cooper (R—KY) to make the investigation and laid down some guide lines for it.

Originally, it had been planned to open hearings this year. However, Cooper said last month he would defer any further action until he got the signal from Bricker to proceed.

Bailiff Chases Sparrow For 90 Minutes in Court

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)— A sparrow flew through the window into federal court yesterday. Several spectators and the bailiff chased it for an hour and a half. The bird evaded Marshal George Beach's pounce after tiring and falilng to the floor. In a last, tired try, it fluttered out an open window a few minutes before Judge Carl Hatch entered.

STOWAWAY. Airman Donald Karr attempted to stow away on a trans-Atlantic airliner but failed in his endeavor to return from England to the United States when the plane was forced back by engine trouble. Karr said his mother was ill in New York. His mother, Mrs. Esta Karr, was contacted in Decatur, Ill., but was not available for comment because "she has gone to work."

Ohio Northern Offers Two Marion Courses

Two extension classes will be offered in Marion by Ohio Northern University of Ada for the winter quarter beginning next Monday.

One course will be New Testament history at 4:30 p.m. taught by Marion E. Tinsler, associate professor of religion and dean of the liberal arts college, and the other will be educational sociology taught at 7 p.m. by Dr. David H. Markle, associate professor of sociology and director of extension for the university. Both classes will be held at Eber Baker Junior High School.

The classes are open to residents of surrounding communities as well as to people from Marion wishing to continue their college training toward a degree or for certification.

Future of Eisenhower's Atomic Peace Plan Rests With Russia, U.S. Congress

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's proposal to the United Nations on the atom is historic. Whether it ever becomes a reality depends on cooperation by Russia and approval by Congress. Either could kill it.

It was a shift in American foreign policy.

For years the United States and Russia have failed to agree on how to end bomb-making. But the atomic materials used for war can also be used for such peaceful purposes as medicine, farming and power generation.

Eisenhower suggested that, while the countries with atomic programs continue looking for a way to control atomic materials for war, they pool some of those materials and let them be used for peace.

That was the shift. Until now the United States has made agreement on disarmament preliminary to any cooperation with Russia in the peaceful use of atomic energy.

Eisenhower's speech, carefully prepared, was not a blueprint but a suggestion to the U.N. where it would have to be explored and developed. So it was vague, of necessity.

Just because it was, Russia will have a hard time saying "no" right away, without looking like an enemy of mankind. Later, of course, she could block it by haggling over details.

This is the background:

This country has insisted that before it agrees to disarm, stops making bombs and destroys the bombs it has, Russia must agree to a system for checking in both countries to prevent cheating.

This would mean freedom for a U. N. team of inspectors to examine minutely both countries' atomic materials and plants. In that way neither could continue making bombs secretly while pretending not to.

Russia wants it the other way around: both countries must agree to disarm, end bomb-making, get rid of their bomb supplies. Only after that could inspectors poke around, maybe.

But, says the United States, this country would be a chump to go for that. The United States has the bigger supply of bombs. Suppose it gets rid of them but Russia breaks the agreement, secretly, by keeping bombs.

Then this country, without atomic arms and before any U.N. inspector could cross through the Iron Curtain, would be at Russia's mercy.

That was exactly the deadlocked position of the United States and Russia on ending the bomb race, with no prospect of progress, when Eisenhower yesterday laid down his plan.

He didn't yield on the inspection point. So far as is known, this country will still insist, in any future agreement on getting rid of weapons, that inspection must precede disarmament.

This is what he suggested:

A special agency of the U.N. should consider his proposal. The countries with atomic materials, mainly the United States and Russia, can contribute some of them—not all—to this agency.

The agency will have to figure out a way to guard these contributed materials so no big power could grab them. Just what this means is not clear.

Once the agency had control of these materials, the world's scientists and engineers would be allowed to use them for the welfare of mankind.

The better the plan worked and the more atomic materials the big powers contributed to this peaceful stockpile, the less atomic material they'd have left for bomb-making.

If the Eisenhower proposal worked and the United States and Russia found they could cooperate in the peaceful development of atomic energy, the easier it might be for them to agree on getting rid of the atomic bomb.

Would the President's proposal be dumped into the U.N. General Assembly, that international debating society? Eisenhower said the big powers should talk it over privately.

But before this country starts giving atomic materials away, or gets committed to any international atomic plans, even a peaceful one, Congress must approve.

That won't be tomorrow.

'SURPRISE WITNESS'. Boston University coed Ann Steinberg, 21, tells the Subversive Activities Control board in Washington that she was taught Communism while a member of the Labor Youth League. Miss Steinberg, who has worked with the FBI since 1951, was brought in as a "surprise" witness by the Justice department, which is requesting the board to declare the Youth League a Communist front.

Legislator Learns He's Wrong at Cost of $9.50

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Last summer State Rep. Richard W. Taylor of Toledo argued in vain against a law requiring police to post warning signs at their radar speed traps. He said the law would kill the value of the radar device in catching speeders, who would slow down just to fool the cops.

Recently Rep. Taylor paid a fine of $9.70 in Ottawa Hills police court on a charge of driving 52 miles an hour through a 35-mile zone of that suburb. Police took Taylor back and showed him the required radar warning signs had been posted.

Bucyrus Jaycees Win State Awards For Spray Project

BUCYRUS — Two Ohio Junior Chamber of Commerce awards today were awarded to the Bucyrus Junior Chamber of Commerce for its sponsorship of an anti-fly campaign here last summer.

The Bucyrus Jaycees won first place in Division Two, which is composed of Jaycee organizations in cities in Bucyrus' population class, and took first honors in the "sweepstakes" competition among all chapters in the state regardless of population classification. The awards were based on the state organization's project of the month competition.

Formal presentation of the awards will be made at the annual Ohio Jaycee meeting in Columbus, Jan. 23-24.

The Bucyrus Jaycees purchased a fogging machine last spring and sprayed the city repeatedly during the summer months at their own expense.

JUDGE GETS RAISE

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP)—City councilmen yesterday set $6,000 as the annual salary for Harry W. Frick, who was elected judge of the Municipal Court which will start operating Jan. 1. That salary is $600 above the base pay fixed by statute.

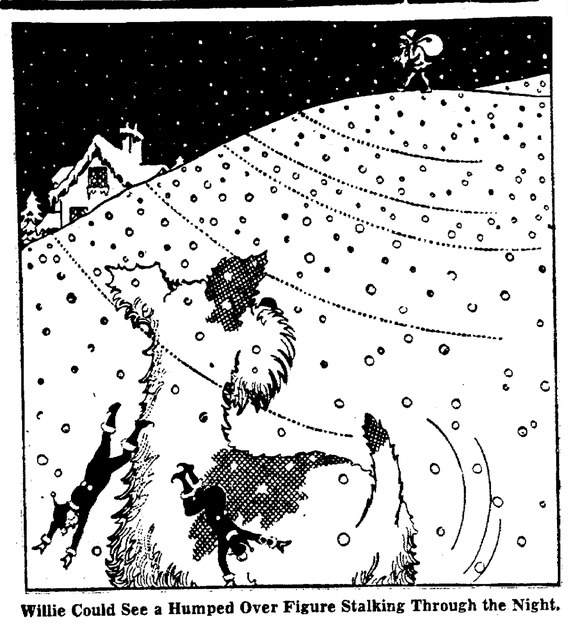
SANTA and the FLYING PUP

By LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

AP NewsFeatures

Willie the pup decides to go along with Mr. Not Much and Mr. Very Little, who say they are Dreamlins—little creatures who take care of children. They are going to see Santa Claus to ask his help in rescuing their queen who has been captured by Gremlins.



Willie Could See a Humped Over Figure Stalking Through the Night.

CHAPTER SIX

Willie and the Dreamlins peered through the snow and darkness. Far away they saw lights.

"That must be Santa's house!" cried Mr. Very Little.

The three of them hurried forward but in a moment there was a call for help. Both the Dreamlins were stuck. They were so tiny they disappeared in the snow with every step they tried to take.

"I am large and you are small," said Willie. "I will carry you."

The Dreamlins thought this a good idea. Gladly they climbed on Willie's back. Willie gamboled through the snow. Soon they were at Santa's house.

Willie looked and he could see a humped over, dreadful, black figure stalking through the night straight for Santa's house.

"Santa must be in terrible danger," shivered Mr. Very Little. "Whatever will we do?"

Willie thought the best thing to do would be to go back home But it was too late now. He growled fiercely to hide his terror and threw himself forward. Surprised, the Dreamlins lost their hold on Willie's back and went flying head first into a snow bank.

Willie fastened his teeth around the man's ankle. He roared, Willie growled, the Dreamlins, digging themselves out of the snow bank, screamed.

THE DOOR of the house opened and Santa Claus himself rushed onto the scene.

"What in the world is happening here?" he cried.

"Help!" roared the man. "It's a wolf!"

Willie believed that Santa could now take care of himself so he released his grip. Then, to encourage Santa, he began to run madly around in circles barking furiously all the time.

"Stop it! Stop it!" shouted Santa. To Willie's amazement, Santa went over and put his arm around the man. "Are you hurt" he asked kindly.

"Hurt?" sputtered the man. "I've been eaten alive! For 600 years I have worked for you faithfully and I can't think why you would have a wolf around to attack me."

"It's not a wolf," said Santa. "It is only a puppy. Come in the house now and we'll see what this is all about."

AS SOON as they were in the house Willie saw that what he thought was a big, wicked man was really a very small, very old, hunched-over dwarf.

"This is Patrick Tweedleknees," said Santa severely to Willie. "He is the oldest worker in Santa Land. Now perhaps you will tell me who you are and why you have attacked this friend of mine."

"Don't let him speak!" cried Patrick Tweedleknees. "Throw him out. I hate dogs!"

Truth to tell, Willie didn't think he could speak, anyway, how could he tell Santa that he merely had been trying to save his life? He stared up at Santa and his eyes filled with shame and sadness and love.

Santa leaned down and patted Willie's head. "Poor little pup," he murmured. "I understand."

Instantly Willie's sadness vanished. He thought that here surely was the kindest, dearest creature anywhere in the world.

WHILE PATRICK Tweedleknees sputtered in disgust Willie licked Santa's boots.

"I am Willie," he said, surprised himself that he could talk. "I came here with two Dreamlins who need your help but they must be stuck outside in a snow drift."

Santa laughed. He and Willie went outside and rescued Mr. Not Much and Mr. Very Little from the snow. Then they all went back indoors and the two Dreamlins told Santa their story and why they had come.

"How can I help you?" asked Santa sadly. "Christmas is very nearly here. I dare not leave my workshops."

"But if our queen is not rescued the Dreamlins will perish," said Mr. Not Much gently. "Who then will protect the children of the world from the wicked Gremlins?"

SEEK PAY BOOST

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Fraternal Order of Police asked the City Council yesterday to raise policemen's salaries. Under the proposal, the top scale for patrolmen would go from $4,392 a year to $5,000.

Group To Sing 'Messiah'

A New Washington community chorus of about 80 voices will present Handel's "The Messiah," Sunday, Dec. 13, at 8 p.m. in the New Washington High School auditorium. Accompanying the chorus will be an instrumental ensemble group. This will mark the ninth annual presentation by the chorus. Conducting the chorus is Kenneth Cummins. The public is invited and an offering will be taken.

Crestline Council Approves Budget For Coming Year

CRESTLINE—A resolution was passed at the meeting of village council here Monday night accepting the amounts and rates as outlined by the budget commission for 1954 and authorizing the necessary tax levies and certifying them to the county auditor.

The figures presented on village tax rates for 1954 show that 73.-686.69 will be derived from taxes outside the 10 mill limitation. Inside the limitation $19,909.20 will be collected for the general fund, $2,212.13 for the policemen's pension fund and the same amount for the fireman's pensin fund.

Fire Chief Saum requested directional signals for fire equipment. This was refered to the fire committee. Council authorized the installation of two fire hydrants one at the Park Road extension, and another at the N. Henry St. extension at Thrush Road. A motion to authorize the street commissioner to level the grade on Thrush Road was passed. The owners of property adjacent to the road section to be improved approximately 1200 feet long, are to pay for stone. It will be hauled by the village.

An ordinance was passed authorizing the mayor on behalf of the village to enter "into a mutual aid program" with municipalities and board of township trustees of the various townships in Crawford County in accordance with statutes of the state. It is understood that the cost of the program be proportioned according to population and under the ordinance Crestline would cooperate with other county members of the defense program in the event of war or disaster.

Over bid for a new police cruiser was received. The total price for the four door deluxe Chevrolet sedan, a 1954 model with specified accessoies, is $2,081.51. The bid came from Workman Chevrolet of Crestline. The bid will be held over until the next meeting. Police Chief Ralph Taylor requested a new type red light signal be mounted on the cruiser and the council agreed. Chief Taylor also reminded council that it had been the custom in recent years to cover parking meters before Christmas. The council voted to cover the meters Dec. 23 and 24.

Ashley Council Hears Report on Water Supply

Special to The Star

ASHLEY — Mayor Russel Nolting presided over the Monday night meeting of Ashley village council.

The completion of the erection of new light poles in the village is expected soon. The work in the west end of the village is to be finished this week.

It was reported that the two water trucks from the Marion Engineer Depot have been returned to Marion and the water supply is being satsifactorily maintained.

Missing Detroit Boy Is Found Safe—at Home

DETROIT (AP)—Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard picked up the telephone and heard a familiar voice cry, "I want police and I want them in a hurry."

It was the commissioner's wife reporting their son Eddie, 3, was missing.

She got the police and in a hurry too. A search was conducted throughout the neighborhood for the lad.

Twenty minutes later, the boy was found. Where? Curled up asleep on the living room floor.

He evidently had skipped out of the house when his mother wasn't looking and back in again while the search was going on.

CAPTAINS TO RETIRE

CLEVELAND (AP)—M. A. Hanna Co. said today two veterans of its ore-hauling fleet had retired. They are Capt. Robert F. Leng of Ashtabula—who was master this season of the fleet's largest vessel, the 71-foot Joseph H. Thompson—and chief engineer Harry S. Scarlett of Ogdensburg, N. Y., who was chief of the T. E. Millsop. Leng had been with the Hanna fleet since 1909; Scarlett since 1916.

Playboy Diplomat Fired, Dominicans Fed Up With Antics

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Porfirio Rubirosa, playboy diplomat and onetime husband of Doris Duke, has been booted out of his job as minister-counselor of the Dominican Embassy in Paris. The government finally got fed up with the international headlines accompanying his romancing.

The Foreign Ministry announced last night that in view of Rubirosa's "personal conduct both in Europe and the United States, it is necessary to cancel his appointment. . .and at the same time divest him of his diplomatic status and prerogatives."

Rubirosa was named as the other man in a divorce suit brought by millionaire golfer Robert Sweeney in London last month against the former Joanne Connelly of New York. His name also had been involved in the divorce suit of tobacco heir Richard Reynolds against Marianne O'Brien.

Who Won Case of Beer Mystery in Middletown

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — A man called the Pony Keg and said he just heard over radio station WPFB he had won a case of beer.

The store duly delivered the case. Then the clerk scratched his head and called the manager. No, the manager said, the store hadn't offered the beer. The station said it hadn't announced any award.

The delivery man was sent back to the "winner's" home, where the "lucky" man insisted he did not make the phone call.

Burglars Leave Expensive Trail In Denver Theft

DENVER (AP) — Butter-fingered thieves left an expensive trail for police in a $4,000 burglary.

Clothing, guns and jewelry, including 120 watches, were reported stolen. Harold Kal, operator of a war surplus store, yesterday pointed out to police a three-block trail of footprints in Denver's new snow, along which was distributed a good share of the loot.

At the end of the trail was a stalled car, registered to Richard Duran, 21. Police said more loot was in the car. Duran and his three brothers, Daniel, 19, Ambrose, 25, and Anthony, 33, were arrested and held for investigation.

EVENING MASS HELD

Applications for enlistment in the Marine Corps, 2nd "Buckeye Buddy Platoon" from the Mansfield area are available now, M-Sgt. C. E. Hopkins who is in charge of the Marine Corps Recruiting Station in this area announced today.

The plan was initiated in September when a platoon of men from this area enlisted to form the 1st Buckeye Buddy Platoon. Members are now home on leave after taking basic training.

The 2nd Buckeye Buddy Platoon from this area will be organized to leave for Parris Island, S. C., for boot training on Jan. 29.

Qualified young men between the ages of 17 and 31 may enlist. The Marine Corps Recruiter is stationed at the Postoffice in Mansfield.

Ohio School Teachers Will Meet in Cleveland

About 1,000 public school teachers and administrators are expected to attend the annual three-day Ohio Education Association convention which opens in Cleveland Thursday.

Sessions will be held in the Hotel Cleveland. In addition to general sessions of the OEA's delegate assembly, legislative and policy-making body, seven departmental and OEA-affiliated organizations will hold their annual meetings.

Delegates from Marion's city school system will be James Hill, principal at Silver Street School, and Miss Mary Jo Stafford of Harding High School.

Plants To Be Closed Day After Christmas

Most Marion industries will be shut down on the Saturdays after Christmas and New Year's Day, it was revealed during a general discussion at a meeting of the Manufacturers Council of the Chamber of Commerce Monday at the Hotel Harding.

It was also bought out that a large majority of the plants will close at noon on the day before Christmas. J. H. Walker, chairman of the council, presided.

Epworth Church Plans Annual Christmas Party

The annual family Christmas party at Epworth Methodist Church tonight for all members of the church will begin at 7, and special guests will be children from the Marion County Children's Home.

Rev. W. C. Eyster, pastor, will give the Christmas story, a puppet show will be presented by David Walker, and a film, "The Little Engine That Could" will be shown. A visit from Santa Claus will be included, with a treat for the children.

Strike Threat At AEC Plant Called Serious

Government Officials Seeking To Head Off Portsmouth Walkout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government officials today try to decide how they might head off a "serious" strike threatened by 1,000 AFL office workers at the Atomic Energy installation near Portsmouth,

A meeting was called among representatives of the Atomic Energy Commission, the AEC's labor-management panel, and the Federal Mediation Service

Wage Demands at Issue

Members of Local 308, AFL Office Employes International Union, have empowered their leaders to call a strike against Peter Kiewit Sons' Co. if their wage demands are not met.

Kiewit is the prime construction contractor at the Ohio project now being erected.

Among other things, the workers say they should get the $2-a-day travel allowance allowed construction workers there. They meet tonight in Portsmouth to consider a strike date.

One of the topics under discussion at today's meeting here, said John Dietz, executive secretary of the AEC's labor-management panel, will be whether the panel should take over the case.

This is done, he told a reporter, only if all other efforts at collective bargaining fail.

Regarded As Serious

Robert Davis, chief labor relations director of the AEC, said the commission regarded the strike threat as "serious" despite the "very good" labor situation at the Ohio plant to date.

The only other strike of any consequence, he said, was by 300 AFL carpenters last spring.

J. Howard Hicks, secretary-treasurer of the union's international, told a reporter:

"We're having a hard time keeping the people in line. They've been talking strike for weeks."

But he said that if today's meeting of government officials results in the AEC labor-management panel entering the case, his union would do "its best" to keep members on the job.

National leaders of the union, he continued, would not favor picket lines even if a strike is called, since this might result in a shutdown of all construction at the plant.

"However, there is a 40-square mile area there," he continued, "and it would be hard to make sure there weren't pickets set up at so many gates."

Pittsburgh Tycoon's Estate Worth $3 Million

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An inventory of the estate of the late Samuel Brendel, Pittsburgh oil and gas tycoon, showed today he left $3,106,709 in real estate and personal property.

His only known relatives are a niece and nephew, Lillian B. Somers and Frank A. B. Brendel, both of North Canton, Ohio, who will share in the estate

Brendel died Nov. 6, 1952, at the age of 68 without leaving a will.

Murrays Robbed

NEW YORK (AP)—Four masked gunmen pushed their way into the Park avenue apartment of Arthur Murray, the dance instructor, last night and robbed him and his wife of $25,000 worth of gems.

They knocked Mrs. Murray to the floor, then forced her at gunpoint to open a safe. Murray was forced to send away a building employe who came to inquire whether anything was wrong after a neighbor heard Mrs. Murray

Legality Holds Up Funeral Services For Slaying Victim

Funeral services for Mrs. Violet Elswick, who was strangled to death at the Green Camp village dump last Saturday night, are being held up until local authorities can detemine who must pay the expenses.

Prosecutor Ralph E. Carhart said this morning that her relatives claim they do not have enough money. The responsibility for the funeral, therefore, becomes a public one.

Local authorities are now studying the law to see if the funeral expenses should be paid by the city of Marion, Marion County, Green Camp Township or Morrow County, her last established residence.

Mrs. Elswick's body was found buried in debris at the Green Camp dump early Sunday morning

Her husband, Bert Elswick, 37, is now being held for the grand jury after pleading guilty to charges of first - degree murder filed in Municipal Court. He previously signed a confession.

Horse Racing Rules Change May Face Test

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Court tests appeared probable today on controversial changes in Ohio's horse racing rules.

The Ohio Racing Commission, its public hearing on the rules completed yesterday, is expected to announce its decision on the changes late this month.

Track operators and sponsors who do not like a number of the proposed rules, principally one suggested by Gov. Frank J. Lausche to limit the number of races at any track to eight a day, attacked the proposals at the public hearing.

Attorneys and representatives of both running and harness tracks attacked the proposed rule limiting the number of races at a track, saying the move would be possible death blow to county fair racing because the number of heats required to determine a winner never is known in advance; that a reduction in the number of races could mean a $500,000 a year cut in state revenue, and that an attempt by the commission to change the number of days would be an invasion of the legislative field.

There was some indication from commission members that county and independent fairs would be exempt from the proposed eight-races-a-day limit. There also was a broad indication harness tracks will be exempt from a proposal to standardize totalizator equipment. Totalizators are machines which reckon the pay-off on the public's wagers. Edward Corrigan, commission secretary, made the proposal to exempt county fairs.

Korea

appear before Allied explainers. One high American officer has predicted that five or six of the Americans will decide to return home.

No apparent progress has been made in the preliminary peace talks since they began Oct. 26. The Reds rejected outright today for a second time a "final" plan handed them yesterday by Dean.

This proposal would seat Russia at the conference and require her to vote with the Communist bloc and to assume full responsibility for complying with the terms of a treaty.

Dean also suggested inviting neutrals with experience in Korea to attend as nonvoting observers with limited rights to take part in debate.

ROKs Rejoin Talks

South Korea, which boycotted yesterday's session because of objections to Dean's proposal, was represented again today.

Dean said differences had been "alleviated but not solved." The U. S. envoy said he would meet again later this week with ROK President Syngman Rhee.

During a 2½ hour meeting today, the Communists hurled abuse at Dean and accused former President Harry S. Truman of once saying, "There is no democracy in the United States."

Dean called Truman "a fine, patriotic American."

He said North Korean delegate Ki Sok Bok did not even pick up the Allied proposal from the table after the meeting yesterday.

"Is this an example of your thoughtful, patient and courteous negotiation?" Dean asked.

He said if the Reds' reaction continued the same, "what is the sense of continuing these talks? Why waste our time?"

Killed by Train

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—The mangled body of Walter Ording, 60, former employe of the Hinde and Dauch Paper Co. and for the past few months a resident of the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors Home, was found along the New York Central railroad tracks here today. Police said there was no doubt the man was killed by a train.

Marion Woman Hurt in Mishap

Only Injury Reported In Two City Accidents

A woman pedestrian was sent to City Hospital with injuries received in one of two traffic accidents on Marion streets reported today by city police.

Injured at Center and Main Sts. at 8 a.m. today was Mrs. Rose Nicolosi of 659 Mt. Vernon Ave She was struck by a car driven by Roscoe C. Pendleton, 49, of 366 Nunin Ct. as she walked from the northeast corner toward the southeast corner. She is reporeted in "good" condition at the hospital with her only apparent injuries being bruises to both legs.

Witnesses told police Mrs. Nicolosi had started to cross the street with the green light when the light changed and Pendleton started to move. She saw the car coming and put her hand on the hood and Pendleton stopped his car almost immediately, police reported.

There were no injuies and no damage reported in the only other accident on city streets which occurred at 11:37 a.m yesterday. Cars driven by Richard H. Lawson, 31, of near Marion and Rose Marie Powers of 280 Patterson St., both traveling south on N. Main St. were involved in the mishap.

In a report of one of three accidents on city streets Monday which appeared in yesterday's Star it was incorrectly reported a car driven by Leo. S. Messenger, 58, of 474 Scranton Ave. struck another car in the rear at E. Church and High Sts. Actually, it was the other car, driven by Robert Coldwell, 17, of 787 Congress St. which struck the rear of Messenger's car causing damage to both cars.

Trucks Involved

Two accidents involving road maintainence trucks were reported today by state patrolmen from the Marion post. One driver involved was slightly injured and then arrested.

At 1 p.m. Tuesday, a State Highway Department truck driven by Roy P. Bender of Waldo was struck as it was dragging the berm in U. S. Highways 23, eight-tenths of a mile north of Waldo.

A car driven by Raymond L. Huffman, 21, of near Waldo struck the truck as both vehicles were headed north. Patrol reports show the right rear side of the car struck the rear tire of the truck, causing moderate damage to the car.

Huffman received a bruised forehead but did not require treatment. He was arrested on a charge of unsafe operation and fined $15 and costs in Municipal Court.

One half hour later, a car collided with a county Highway Department truck at the intersection of High and Vine Streets in LaRue. The car was driven by Miss Nancy C. Dickason of LaRue. The truck was driven by Arthur W. Shaw, 42, of Prospect.

Patrol reports indicate one of the vehicles failed to yield the right of way at a traffic light at the intersection. However, no witnesses were present, and patrolmen were unable to determine which driver was at fault. No arrests were made

Two Cars Collide

One no-injury accident was reported today in Morrow County by state patrolmen from the Marion post. The accident involved a towed-car, which broke loose from the car pulling it.

Driver of the front car was Harold P. Layman, 28, of Evansville, Ind. Patrol reports show the car he was pulling began to sway on U. S. Highway 42, about three and one-half miles south of Mt. Gilead at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

The car broke the towbar and went off the highway, turning over. The entire left side of the body of the runaway car was badly damaged. The first car was not damaged.

Coleman then stepped aside and listened as Nathan Sussman of New York City testified he knew both Coleman and Rosenberg to have been members of the Young Communist League while students at the City College of New York (CCNY). Sussman said he also had been a member but later broke with communism.

The subcommittee counsel, Roy Cohn, read into the record an excerpt from testimony Rosenberg gave at the trial which resulted in his conviction. In it Rosenberg mentioned "Mr. Aaron Coleman who, subsequent to graduation (from CCNY), I met at Ft. Monmouth."

No Details Given

The excerpt gave no details of any such meeting, and Coleman later told newsmen he had no recollection of it.

Cohn said at the hearing that Rosenberg's trial statement was "a direct, flat contradiction" of Coleman's testimony he had not met Rosenberg after their college days. McCarthy called it "testimony from the grave" and said it probably wouldn't be "admissible in a criminal action for perjury."

Ashland Paper Backs Rhodes For Governor

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP)—The Ashland Times-Gazette in a frontpage editorial today urged that State Auditor James A. Rhodes seek the Republican nomination for Governor of Ohio.

The independent newspaper's editorial had the heading: "If Ohio GOP Wants to Win—Jim Rhodes is the Man."

Informed of the newspaper's editorial, Rhodes said at his Columbus office he had no comment at this time.

The editorial said in part: ". . . It seems apparent to us that James A. Rhodes, present state auditor, is the logical man for the Republicans to offer the voters this coming gubernatorial election. Rhodes has a remarkable record . . . .

"His administrative abilities are best illustrated by the amazing progress Columbus has made in the last decade. (Rhodes was Columbus mayor until last January) new and better streets, clean, sound city government and the elimination of crime and vice are just a few of his achievements as mayor of the Ohio capital . . . .

"The Republicans have no easy task in trying to beat Frank Lausche, the governor, despite his breaks with his own party leaders and his consistent opposition to many things sorely needed in Ohio, somehow continues to attract support at the polls . . . .

". . . But it behooves the GOP leaders in Ohio to make certain that a candidate is produced who can compete with Lausche on the political paltform, in actual administrative experience . . . . and drive that will arouse Ohioans to the need for a better, more progressive state government . . . Jim Rhodes is the one and only Republican today available for that assignment . . . ."

Proposal

said Durham, a member of the atomic energy committee.

Another member, Rep. Hinshaw (R-Calif), commented: "This is an act of great statesmanship and might serve to break the deadlock which seems to have settled over the world. I believe that the committee and Congress would listen to his plans and proposals with the greatest interest and would enact them into law."

Hoover Applauds

Former President Hoover declared: "President Eisenhower has made a proposal of great nobility. I pray it may be accepted by all the world."

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), a member of the atomic energy committee, said at Waterloo, Iowa, that the speech "may be one of the greatest contributions to the future of a free and peaceful world," and he added: "The Soviets now have the opportunity to prove whether they want peace and human progress . . . or confusion, fear and conquest."

Sen. Dworshak (R-Idaho) said Eisenhower's proposal will have to stand or fall on "positive action—not merely an indication—on the part of Soviet Russia to establish good faith and guarantee full cooperation and compliance."

Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY), chairman of the Senate-House atomic committee, said he hopes the President's proposals will get "prompt and favorable consideration" by that group.

Lauds Peaceful Intent

"President Eisenhower has pointed the way toward making this second decade of the atomic era one in which man's inventive genius can be directed to the diminution of human misery, the abolition of want and the banishment of war," Cole declared.

Sen. Gillette (D-Iowa) called Eisenhower's proposals "timely and very forward-looking."

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) said they were "worth the most serious consideration by all great powers."

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) said Eisenhower's suggestion is good because it will demonstrate to the world whether Russia is willing to agree to any workable plan for atomic developments.

"I don't have any hope that Russia will consent," McCarthy observed.

Sen. Ives (R-NY), said Eisenhower had laid down in simple language "the solution by which civilization can be saved."

Sen. Duff (R-Pa) said the President had indicated "in the most sincere way possible the desire of Americans to avoid war and to adjust the current world difficulties on the basis of peace and understanding."

Oregon Studies Bones

BURNS, Ore. (UP)—Students of Oregon history hope there may be more significance in the finding of the remains of what apparently was a 19th century rifleman in a rocky grave near this central Oregon community.

A hunting party found the partial skeleton of a man, with an ancient muzzle-loading rifle, a wooden ramrod and a powder horn lying beside it.

The bones were sent to the University of Oregon for study which authorities hope may shed light on some phase of early state history.

Atomic

quate,, against atomic attack and to amass terrible power of retaliation against the attacker.

"To pause there," he said in words of grimmest warning, "would be to confirm the hopeless finality of a belief that two atomic colossi are doomed to eye each other indefinitely across a trembling world.

"To stop there would be to accept helplessly the probability of civilization destroyed, the annihilation of the irreplaceable heritage of mankind handed down to us from generation to generation, and the condemnation of mankind to begin all over again the age-old struggle upward from savagery toward decency, justice, and right.

"Surely no sane member of the human race could discover victory in such desolation."

Months in Preparation

The speech had been months in preparation. The President had long wanted to report to the American people on the dangers of the atomic age and supply some new information on the power of atomic and hydrogen bombs. This information he summed up in a single sentence:

"Atomic bombs today are more than 25 times as powerful as the weapons with which the atomic age dawned (July 16, 1945), while hydrogen weapons are in the ranges of millions of tons of TT equivalent."

To this he added the comparison that the U. S. stockpile of atomic weapons, which is increasing daily, already "exceeds by many times the explosive equivalent" of all bombs and shells dropped or fired all over the world in World War II.

Notes Other Differences

Eisenhower then related the atomic problem to other differences with the Soviets. He recalled the long series of conferences and attempts at negotiation to settle such concrete problems as German unification, Austrian independence and Korean peace.

He said the U.S. government is approaching the proposed four-power foreign ministers' conference at Berlin "with hopeful sincerity."

"We will bend every effort of our minds to the single purpose of emerging from that conference with tangible results toward peace—the only true way of lessening international tension," he declared.

"We never have, and never will, propose or suggest that the Soviet union surrender what is rightfully hers."

Recalls Previous Move

In the same vein of deeply sincere purpose, he recalled that the United Nations Assembly called only last Nov. 18 for secret talks on control of atomic and conventional weapons. He announced that the United States is "instantly prepared" to join these talks and will carry into them "a new conception."

"To hasten the day when fear of the atom will begin to disappear from the minds of the people and the governments of the East and West," he said, there are certain steps that can be taken now.

"I therefore make the following proposal:

"The governments principally involved, to the extent permitted by elementary prudence, to begin now and continue to make joint contributions from their stockpiles of normal uranium and fissionable materials to an international atomic energy agency. We would expect that such an agency would be set up under the aegis of the United Nations.

Nature of Discussion

"The ratio of contributions, the procedures and other details would properly be within the scope of the 'private conversations' I have referred to earlier.

"The United States is prepared to undertake these explorations in good faith. Any partner of the United States acting in the same good faith will find the United States a not unreasonable or ungenerous associate."

The President pointed out that, by tackling the problem in this way, the atomic powers could avoid the "irritations and mutual suspicions" which have arisen with all efforts to work out an inspection system for plants within individual countries.

He did not say the U. S. government would drop its goal of an effective system of international inspection of atomic energy facilities.

Scope of Proposals

Eisenhower said he would submit to Congress, "with every expectation of approval," any international atomic energy plan worked out by the major powers which would:

1. Encourage global exploration of peaceful uses of fissionable materials.

2. Begin to cut down the destructive potential power of atomic stockpiles—obviously those in Russia and the United States.

3. Allow people everywhere to see that the great powers are interested in human betterment rather than "in building up the armaments of war."

4. Open up a new channel for peaceful discussion and initiate a "new approach" to world problems which must be solved "if the world is to shake off the inertia imposed by fear and make positive progress toward peace."

Mansfield Man Denies Charge He Killed Wife

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—E. Max Sternbaum, 36-year-old supermarket executive, today entered a plea of innocent to charges he murdered his wife, Leah, 31, and set fire to a supermarket office where her charred body was found.

Sternbaum's counsel, Marshall E. Moore, entered the plea for his client. He waived reading of the indictment.

Common Pleas Judge G. E. Klabfleisch first set the trial date on the first-degree murder charge for Jan. 6, but at request of counsel he advanced the date to Feb. 8.

Sternbaum is charged with arson as well as murder. Moore asked the court that the arson and murder trials be held separately and the judge then said the arson trial would be held a week following conclusion of the murder trial. The state objected to this however and asked that both trials be held at the same time. The defense was given 10 days to reply to Prosecutor Theodore Lutz's motion for simultaneous trials.

The defense did not ask the court to set a bond for Sternbaum.

Sternbaum is treasurer of the Sternbaum Supermarkets. His attractive wife was found beaten to death in the office of one of the firm's two markets here. Police said an attempt had been made to destroy the body by setting fire to the office.

Mrs. Sternbaum's body was found in the office Dec. 4, 1952. Sternbaum's story was that he was struck over the head by two robbers who entered the place without his notice. When he regained consciousness, he said, the place was afire. He said he managed to crawl out of the office into an alley where authorities found him. The only description he ever gave of the attackers was that one wore brown trousers.

Stockpile

States, which once worried over the scarcity of nuclear material.

Exceeds World War II Total

He used the yardstick of the great war in which he fought to measure the power the United States now holds. He said:

"Today, the United States' stockpile of atomic weapons, which, of course, increases daily, exceeds by many times the explosive equivalent of the total of all bombs and all shells that came from every plane and every gun in every theater of war through all the years of World War II."

He said 42 test explosions have occurred since the historic Alamogordo shot July 16, 1945. That meant a grand total of 45 explosions have been set off by this country. Of the total, there have been these: the original test in New Mexico; two dropped on Japan; two fired in "Operation Crossroads" at Bikini; 31 shots at the Las Vegas, N. M., proving ground for small and intermediate explosions; nine at Eniwetok in the Marshall Island group of the mid-Pacific.

Significant Omission

This was the first time it was possible to deduce precisely the number of test explosions at the Eniwetok Proving Ground opened in 1948. It seemed significant that Eisenhower, in reading his prepared text, omitted the printed word "atomic" in reporting 42 tests.

One of the Eniwetok shots in the test series last fall was a hydrogen explosion. While a hydrogen explosion is in reality an atomic explosion (the fusion instead of fission of atoms) the popular use of the word has been applied only to fission bombs.

But Eisenhower shaded the encouraging word of a great advantage in numbers of nuclear weapons for the United States with some sobering advice, including:

"Even a vast superiority in numbers of weapons, and a consequent capability of devastating retaliation, is no preventive, in itself, against the fearful material damage and toll of human lives that would be inflicted by surprise aggression.

"Even against the most powerful defense, an aggressor in possession of the effective minimum number of atomic bombs for a surprise attack could probably place a sufficient number of his bombs on the chosen targets to cause hideous damage."

It appeared noteworthy that while Eisenhower spoke several times of the quantitative edge held by the United States over Russia he made no mention of a qualitative margin. This omission could mean either that (A) no qualitative edge is held or (B) that intelligence isn't good enough to say.

KOREA VET KILLED

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Airman 3.C. Billy Gene Surgill, 21, home from his post in Japan only four days, was injured fatally last night when an automobile in which he was riding struck a concrete bridge abutment on Ohio 75, about 17 miles northwest of here.

Bender, Herbert Talk Over Senate Race With Bricker

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Bender (R—Ohio) said today he is "very seriously" considering running for the Republican nomination for senator from Ohio.

Bender told a reporter he had a "nice talk" yesterday with Sen. Bricker (R—Ohio).

"I've been talking with as many influential people in the party in Ohio as I can," said Bender, "and I think that I have good organizational support.

"I feel very good about Sen. Bricker. We talked nothing but politics.

"I will announce my intentions very soon, probably within a week."

Bricker, as the No. 1 Republican in Ohio, has a big say in deciding candidacies of Republicans for various offices.

Bricker aides told a reporter today that former Ohio Gov. Thomas J. Herbert also talked with the senator yesterday, just one day after Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche announced his intention to try for a fifth term.

Herbert, chairman of the Subversive Activities Control Board, has said he is considering running either for Ohio governor or Ohio senator.

Theft

Marion County man and the Marion woman by James J. Weir, manager of the local Montgomery Ward and Company store, where Cornwell was employed while taking merchandise valued at more than $2,000 since April.

Cornwell and Mrs. Dawson were questioned Saturday by the Marion County sheriff's office and store officials and investigators. At that time Cornwell signed a 13-page confession admitting taking the merchandise, including a television set, from the store.

He said he took some of the merchandise to his own home and some of it to Mrs. Dawson's home. Mrs. Dawson has maintained she had no knowledge the merchandise was stolen.

Both Cornwell and Mrs. Dawson have been held in the Marion County jail.

On the first larceny charge, Cornwell is charged with having stolen or embezzled a television set, valued at $300, from the store "on or about Nov. 18." In addition, a second warrant charges that since April 1 he did "steal, take and carry away" tools, radios, clothing, paints, hardware, luggage, appliances and miscellaneous merchandise valued at approximately $2,000.

Embezzlement Charge

Both warrants charge that he "embezzled and converted" to his own use this merchandise.

Mrs. Dawson is charged with accepting the television set, valued at $300, and luggage, small appliances, clothing and lamps, valued at approximately $800, knowing they had been stolen or embezzled.

In the confession signed by Cornwell Saturday after voluntarily returning to Marion for questioning, he related he was employed at the store in the fall of 1952 and worked there until Dec. 1. He left Marion then, he said, because he suspected officials were aware of the thefts. He had been employed at the store as a display man.

After reaching Illinois, Cornwell continued, he decided to return to Marion to give himself up. In the meantime, Weir and Thomas M. Stevenson, Montgomery Ward investigator who arrived in Marion the same day Cornwell left, headed toward Illinois to find Cornwell.

Found in Illinois

They spotted him about 400 miles from Marion, east of Springfield, Ill., where Cornwell informed them he was on his way back to Marion. The three men arrived in Marion early last Friday morning.

A search that day of the houses of Cornwell and Mrs. Dawson resulted in the recovery of about $2,000 worth of merchandise.

In the confession, Cornwell said he had discussed the situation with his wife before he left town last Tuesday and that she urged him to go to the store officials and authorities and tell them what he had done.

Parents Receive Blame For Children Vandalism

CARBONDALE, Ill. (UP) — Parents are to blame for most vandalism by children, according to Dr. W. A. Thalman, director of Southern Illinois University's Child Guidance Clinic.

Millions of dollars of child vandalism results from youngsters not having enough to do and from their feeling unwanted, Thalman explained. He said children should be given toys they can put together and take apart so they will not vent destructive urges on useful objects.

But the best way to avoid such vandalism, Thalman said, is for the parent to spend more time with his children. Then youngsters will feel loved and the vandal gang will hold small interest for them.

More than half of Americans wear spectacles.

Court Hearing On Segregation Nearing Close

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court hears today the last of the legal arguments it requested for guidance in the momentous decision whether segregation of whites and Negroes in public schools violates the Constitution.

The justices probably will take several months to reach their conclusions, write their decision on the main issue and—if it is against segregation—on whether and how the federal judiciary may provide for a period of transition.

Final Two States

Attorneys already had spoken their final words in cases involving Virginia, South Carolina and Kansas. The Court turned today to cases from the District of Columbia and Delaware.

The Eisenhower administration joined up yesterday with those urging the high court to outlaw segregation, but Virginia, South Carolina and Kansas contended the question of dual school systems was for the legislatures—not the courts—to decide.

Seventeen states and the District of Columbia require some form of racial segregation in public schools. Three other states permit it.

Asst. Atty. Gen. J. Lee Rankin, who spoke for the Eisenhower administration, told the nine justices yesterday they have the "power and duty" to rule that segregation violates the 14th Amendment.

Counters Argument

J. Lindsay Almond Jr., Virginia's attorney general, countered that the court was being asked by opponents of segregation "to go farther than the Congress ever intended this court should go."

And T. Justin Moore, who also spoke for Virginia, told the court the segregation issue calls for judicial restraint "if any issue ever has."

"In my humble judgment, there isn't anything you could do that would be worse than an adverse decree," Moore added.

Thurgood Marshall, Negro attorney for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAAPC), said the question is "whether or not the wishes of these states shall prevail or whether our Constitution shall prevail."

Oppose 'Separate but Equal'

Rankin, under questioning, said the Justice Department adopts the views on segregation expressed in a brief filed by the Truman administration last year. This brief called the "separate but equal" doctrine laid down by the Supreme Court in 1896 "wrong," and asked the court to re-examine and overturn it. The Justice Department said Rankin was speaking for the present administration.

Rankin suggested lower courts might be given the task, if segregation were outlawed, of considering plans for school integration proposed by the local officials affected. These courts, he said, could determine how much time would be required for a changeover.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Paul E. Wilson, who spoke for Kansas, like attorneys for Virginia and South Carolina, argued that Congress, in proposing the 14th Amendment, didn't contemplate outlawing segregation. And, Wilson said, the states in adopting it didn't understand that it would do so.

Big Four

Authorities are already calculating in the millions of dollars. They reckon on at least 4,000 visitors, including upwards of 800 press and radio men.

Shops are taking a gamble now, laying in post-Christmas stocks of such high quality German tourist bait as cameras, jewelry, toys, souvenirs, and haberdashery.

City Hall estimates that a conference of only two weeks would pour in well over a million dollars and that a protracted meeting could yield a fabulous fortune. And the isolated city needs trade like a duck needs water.

The Berliners are moving cautiously, however, as reflected in their press. Newspapers are playing the story "straight" without indulging in exaggerated hopes, a lesson learned through bitter experience when East and West are involved.

The Western Allies are going ahead on the theory that the meeting will open Jan. 4 in the old Allied Control Authority Building in the American sector. They have to, in order to plan properly.

German officials indicate a belief that Moscow will want a date much later, perhaps in early February. They also speculate that the Soviets could at the last minute find something unacceptable in the Big Three proposal, such as the avowed intention to proceed with European defense regardless of any Big Four conference.

Endless Smear

By George Sokolsky

Harold Ickes is dead and has left behind a diary which is most interesting because comparisons can now be made with what Ickes believed when he was a blatant majordomo of the Roosevelt regime. Apparently Ickes disliked many of the New Dealers.

SOKOLSKY

For those who have forgotten Ickes, he was secretary of the interior in the Roosevelt Cabinet. He had been a Republican who had moved into the Bull Moose Progressive party of Theodore Roosevelt, back to the Republicans, and landed in the New Deal.

HIS AMBITION was to be head of the Bureau of Indian Affairs but he was made secretary of the interior instead.

Forceful in speech, quarrelsome in manner, independently rich by marriage, Ickes cut quite a figure in the hey-day of changing the world. He enjoyed a noisy fight and managed to keep himself on the front pages of newspapers by the expression of meticulously conceived spontaneous outbursts of unusual phraseology.

One paragraph in his secret diary, now no longer secret, intrigued me because it continues the smear of an American patriot, William W. Wirt, who was hounded to death by the group which is now being brought to the exposure of blinding light. Shall I appoint myself the guardian of the memory of this fine American?

THE ICKES paragraph reads:

"I had learned yesterday that when a newspaper reporter called recently to interview Dr. William Wirt at his camp in Gary, Ind., he asked Wirt if he could use his telephone. Assent being given, he was shown into a closet and when he turned the light on in there, he saw a pile of silver shirts, the uniform of a Fascist order that is attempted to be built up in the country at this time. I suggested to the President that it might be well to have an investigation made of this matter."

It would have been more interesting if Ickes had given the name of the reporter so that he could testify under oath to the facts.

THE SILVER SHIRTS was a screwball organization, founded by William Dudley Pelley, who once wrote an article for a magazine in which he claimed that he died, had a conversation with God, and returned to live.

I do not have the article before me, but my recollection after all these years is that his conversation lasted two or three minutes, after which he wrote the aforesaid magazine article.

Pelley has been trying to make a living out of it for many years.

To accuse Williarm Wirt of being a Silver Shirt, back in 1934 or 1935, was to say that he was a screwball, a Fascist, a Nazi, a fool. He was none of these, although his attempt to cure the New Deal of fallacy seemed quixotic. And actually what was his crime?

DR. WIRT, an educator of Gary, Inc., as far back as April, 1934, told the story which is unfolding slowly before this nation today.

He went to a dinner party at the home of Alice Barrows. Among those present were: Robert Bruere, chairman of the Textile Code Advisory Committee; David Cushman Coyle, of the Public Works Administration; Hildegarde Kneeland and Mary Taylor, Department of Agriculture economists; Alice Barrows, of the Education Bureau at the Interior Department, and Lawrence Todd, representative of the Soviet news agency.

Wirt said:

"Miss Kneeland said that Tugwell (Rexford Guy) said: 'If we begin to plan nationally we must change once and for all our statues and Constitution.'"

HE REPORTED that Lawrence Todd said:

"We believe we have Mr. Roosevelt in the middle of a swift stream and that the current is so strong that he can not turn back or escape it.

"We all think that Mr. Roosevelt is only the Kerensky of this revolution. We believe we can keep him there until we are ready to supplant him with a Stalin."

IT IS NOT clear who this Stalin was to be but there were several aspirants.

Harold Ickes's reference to Dr. Wirt is a reminder of this heroic pedagogue who spoke out in 1934. He was smeared even as though he were a Nazi.

He was laughed at and ridiculed humiliated until he died of it but we now know that Dr. William A. Wirt told the truth at the very beginning of an unbelievable page of history. He was prophetic.

War on Rackets

By Victor Riesel

Backstage at the old Palace Theater on Broadway is an entertainer with a new routine for which he merits extra bows and a big hand.

RIESEL

This man is a comic, but I write not of his act alone, but of the fact that, as the new president of the AFL's American Guild of Variety Artists, he's launched a campaign, which if followed by his more powerful colleagues in other unions, could keep the curtain from coming down on all labor.

Between the acts there in the Mecca of vaudeville, this union president, comedian Jackie Bright, has started a drive to clean the rackets out of his union. Bright is wiping out of the union the "B-girls" and those strippers who are used in some night clubs and honky tonks across country to steal from patrons and whip up business.

THE VAUDEVILLE union is setting up a national screening operation and file of the shady ladies who whip out a union card and claim they're AFL entertainers every time they're picked up by the police. These dolls have been the front for mobs since the first bootleg bottle was run across from Canada.

At the Palace, Jackie was waiting to go on stage when he said:

"My union can and will do without drink hustlers and the even more nefarious side line members. These are the type of members that gives our profession, which has been respected down through the years, a black eye and a bad name."

Jackie Bright's national union is tiny compared with the million-member giants, but his crusade is being reflected in more powerful labor circles these days.

It's good to report that from the smallest to the biggest, reform's afoot. Apparently, there are labor leaders who are willing to talk publicly of bucking the mob. They, too, should get a hand.

THE GREATEST challenge faces the Teamsters Union chief, Dave Beck, now in office exactly one year. Beck inherited a series of baronies rather than a concentrated national organization.

The Teamsters' national office had virtually no staff compared to other unions. In many parts of the country there were hoods who feared no national office discipline, since the teamsters national office traditionally had little control.

These men became powers in their own districts, shook down businessmen, terrorized the employers and workers alike and were affluent in their own right through mis-use of the power of a union which controls everything on wheels.

To Beck's credit, he began building up a staff of bright young intellectual labor specialists. He has sent investigators into many big cities — including Detroit. He is installing special business machines in his locals like those in Seattle, Indianapolis, St. Louis and Columbus.

HE HAS HAD conferences on "methods of preventing defalcation" by use of these machines which eliminate handling of dues stamps and give receipts for every penny taken in immediately after it is collected from the members.

With some local Teamsters Union books at District Attorney Hogan's office in New York, with a grand jury probing his local in Detroit, with the mobs fighting his people undercover in St. Louis and with at least a dozen other investigations going in big cities, Beck now faces the problem of making good his public pledge to clean house of what he inherited.

There are others in the AFL who are calling on their colleagues to clean up. There's the robust though elderly Hugo Ernst, head of the AFL's Hotel Restaurant Union of over 400,000, in a field where the mobs have been toughest.

THE KICKBACK rackets and race track scandals which were first exposed in this column "are a gigantic kick in the pants to the entire labor movement," Ernst wrote frankly in Cincinnati not so long ago.

"His (the crooked union official's) breach of faith, his gluttony, his crime is only the more serious because it helps to load the dice of public opinion against all unions, their members and officers. . . Like Caesar's wife, the labor union officer must be above suspicion. This rule has reason. In the largest sense, the labor movement's goal is nothing less than the brotherhood of man," Ernst warned.

About the same time, the AFL's first vice - president, the usually soft spoken Matthew Woll, also lashed out.

The ousting of waterfront racketeers, Woll said, will "not serve as a magicians' wand banning all evil spirits and the evil of racketeering in our midst. . . We are fully aware, . . we are not at the end of the road . . . we are realist . . we . . . do not represent an infallible collection . . . of saints."

He called for all to join in the fight — police and politicians as well as labor chiefs. This I'd like to see.

Hero Worship

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—A hero is as necessary to a human being as oxygen.

Today, a man is known, not so much by the company he keeps, as the heroes he holds.

There is a two-way relationship between any man and his hero. The hero helps him, and the man through belief adds a lustre to the hero's fame.

When you are young, almost any old hero will do. But as you grow older, you choose your heroes more carefully. Usually, they are people who have risen above problems that are a kind of Mt. Everest in your own life.

The nice thing about heroes is they never outgrow you. You outgrow and discard them.

For example, if you like football, you start with Frank Merriwell and his pallid triumphs at Yale and go on to Coach Frank Leahy and his present problems at Notre Dame. Frank Merriwell always won the game, but to make a first down is Frank Leahy's only announced goal. Our goals, like our heroes, grow smaller as we grow older.

Every man has to have a military hero. My first one was Alexander the Great who most people think died from trying to drink a gallon of wine in his early 30's while despairing there were more worlds for him to conquer. I admired him not for his despair or his victories but because I had never met a man in his 30's who could afford a gallon of wine.

When I read later that Alexander the Great had died of brain fever, I lost interest in him. He became too remote.

It was the same way with Stonewall Jackson. He died at 39. After my 40th birthday, even reading of Stonewall Jackson disturbed me. I couldn't forgive him his youth, his early death with a beard. He made me feel too old.

At present, I have only three real military heroes. They are Robert E. Lee, Gen. Omar Nelson Bradley, and Ernie Pyle. Of the three, I think Gen. Bradley and Ernie Pyle have survived the most rugged test. It is hard for a man to be a hero in his lifetime.

But as we grow older, I suppose that is the kind of heroes we look for—those who have helped us by their example in our lifetime. This is the way an old man admires from the vantage point of his years the father whom he as a boy took for granted. Our heroes grow closer to us as we mature, because as we grow older we pick heroes closer to our needs.

But he should have a human hero, one with human faults, one not so high that the fog of his perfection obscures him. A hero without faults is not a hero. He is unbelievable.

Some heroes stay with you all your life, changeless and changeful as the climate. I suppose if I had to name the heroes who have worn best with me, they would be the literary heroes of my youth—William Shakespeare, Thomas Hardy and Emily Dickinson. Yet one must also have an unknown hero. To me, it is the person who wrote the lines, that of all lines written, I would most like to have my name beneath.

They are the lines, spoken on some night of splendor by every child who speaks the English tongue and looks up at a sky and says:

"Starlight, star bright, first star I have seen tonight. I wish I may, I wish I might have this wish I wish this night."

You have to have a hero to be a human being—but it's more comfortable to have a human hero. Then you can even admire the flashbacks on his clay feet.

Galion Junior Students Present Annual Play

Special to The Star

GALION — A capacity audience was kept laughing from the opening lines until the curtain was drawn on the third act when the junior class presented the annual play, "Our Miss Brooks," at senior high school auditorium, Tuesday night.

The play was another success for the director, Miss Miriam Sayre, high school speech instructor and coach of dramatics.

Mary Ann Dietz had the part of Miss Brooks. She was supported by the following players: Dick Ekin, Phyllis Helfrich, Jane Connolly, Linda Nichols, Sharon Pinyerd, Tom Mansperger, Pat Mayer, Perry Quay, Kay Palmer, Jerry Nicholls, Darlene Catello, Mary Seitz, Nanci Bianchi, Modesta Keller, Ben Gottfried, Jim Akers and Peggy Carter.

PIERCED DUCK. This pet duck was spry and hungry after its body was pierced by a lead-tipped arrow in St. Louis. The duck, owned by Mrs. C. A. Diffey, was taken to the Animal Protective Association after this picture was taken and arrow was removed. The bird is expected to survive.

REHEARSAL SLATED

A dress rehearsal will be held Thursday night by the Lecture-Recital Club Chorus at First Presbyterian Church in preparation for the annual Christmas vesper program of the club set for Sunday afternoon. The group is under direction of Mrs. Howard Hinamon, and Mrs. Tom E. Ballinger is accompanist. Miss Barbara Axe is chorus president.

Richwood Minister Accepts New Duties

Special to The Star

RICHWOOD — Rev. Robert C. Turner has resigned as pastor of the Richwood First Baptist Church and has accepted a pastorate in East Liverpool. He assumed his new duties Sunday.

Rev. Turner came to Richwood five years ago from Riley Creek, O.

At the close of the church leadership training class meeting conducted by Dr. Packer of Granville Thursday night, a farewell party honored Rev. and Mrs. Turner and daughters, Sandra and Rebecca. A hymn sing led by Miss Laura Rea, with Mrs. Charles Gill as accompanist was followed by a short program in charge of John Brobeck, including a brief resume of the work accomplished in the church by Rev. Turner, ably presented by the church clerk Mrs. Ruth Weller.

Rev. Turner was moderator of the Marion Association of Baptist Churches the past year and co-operated during the meetings of the county-wide school council of churches held in Marysville, O. He was a member of the Richwood Ministerial Association.

Gifts were presented to Rev. and Mrs. Turner by the church in appreciation of their work here. The meeting closed with group singing, and prayers by Mrs. Oscar Bodley and Mrs. S. R. Sanders. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Sanders, Mrs. Giles McDaniel, Mrs. Brobeck and Mrs. Charles Perkins. A very attractive cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Robert Stallsmith was a replica in miniature of the Baptist Church building.

The prices of the wonder drugs are expected to drop sharply, and the fellow everything happens to says it will be just his luck to stay healthy and miss out on the bargains.

Auction Features Christmas Party of Marion BPW Club

Nearly 70 members and guests of the Business and Professional Women's Club attended the club's Christmas dinner meeting recently at Hotel Harding. Featured activity was an auction of articles made and donated by the members, the proceeds added to the treasury for service projects. The event was in charge of Mrs. Florence Ditwiler, vice president, and her committee.

For the dinner, the tables were decorated with a centerpiece which included pine cones and evergreen, and strips of evergreen were spaced along the tables with letters spelling "Merry Christmas" in white, each on a red "bell." Lighted miniature Christmas trees were placed on the two pianos. The club collect was read by Mrs. Madeline Tatham. Singing of Christmas carols was accompanied by Mrs. Lewis Wills.

"Auctioneer" was Mrs. Lois Jean Barnhouse. Assisting personnel were Miss Peg Potter, Miss Marjorie Williams, and Mrs. Virginia Greenwood, and others on the committee included Miss Margaret Messenger, Miss Patty Cox, Mrs. Tatham, Mrs. Pearle Vestal, Mrs. Helen Cleveland, and Miss Kathryn Lusch.

Guests introduced were Mrs. Evelyn Barkley, Mrs. Arthur Tyde, Miss Florence Daum, Mrs. Margaret Marsh, Mrs. Dorothy Sparks, Mrs. June Peach, Mrs. Janet Kleppenger, Mrs. D. H. Lincoln, and Mrs. Eloise Lust.

Report was made of a previous meeting at the home of Miss Mary Martha Luke, Club president, at which 14 new members were given an orientation briefing. Miss LaVern Lash, chairman of the Federation Committee, spoke on the aims and purposes of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs and gave background of the local club. The new members were introduced by Mrs. Vestal, membership chairman.

This group included Mrs. Eleanor Anderson, Misses Mary Ballentine, Rebecca Coup, Evelyn Kristoff, Thelma Stoner, Jo Walton, Pat Walton, Elizabeth Withrow, and Ruth Roe, Mrs. Shirley Hansen, Mrs. Barbara Norris, Mrs. Jennie Reid, Mrs. Mary Sansone, and Mrs. Shirley Silver. Present also were Miss Mary K. Miley, Mrs. Barnhouse, and Mrs. Greenwood.

Police Tag Stolen Car For Parking Overtime

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—During the two days a shiny new Cadillac was parked on Hunnewell avenue, two overtime parking tags were tucked under the windshield wiper.

Then an alert mailman did some checking and notified the owner, Charles Drayton Jr.

Drayton called police to tell them he had found his car, which he had reported stolen Sunday night. Police were understandably silent about the whole affair.

Englishman Edits Out Burns' Brogue, Scots Up in Arms

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — An Englishman brought Scotland to the verge of a bloodless civil war today.

He has translated Bobby Burns' poems into English—good, American-style English with none of the "wha's and "hae's" which make the Scots bard tricky reading.

The culprit is William Kean Seymour, 66-year-old retired bank manager, who has never been to Scotland.

He says he thinks the poems read better his way.

Seymour's improvements have set off a storm of controversy in Scotland's newspapers. So far, the battle is roughly even, with half the Scots agin him, and the other half supporting him.

A typical Seymour line comes from his translation of Burns' famous poem "Address to a Haggis," traditional greeting to the weird Scots dish at annual "Burns Night" suppers.

Burns wrote:

In Seymour style, it reads:

"Good luck to your plump honest face, etc."

Typical protests in today's letter - to - the - editor columns range from the "I am outraged" of Aberdeen's Frederick Moss to the "De'il tak' me if I ever heard the like o' this menseless blellum o' an Englishman" from Glasgow's Douglas Cargen.

But Seymour has supporters like Mrs. Isobel Webster, who asked: "What if the Bible had been left in Hebrew?"

College Enrollment Up, Federal Report Indicates

WASHINGTON (AP)—College and university enrollment in the United States totals 2,250,701 this fall, an increase of 4.8 per cent over last year.

The U. S. Office of Education, making public its annual count today, said this was the second consecutive year in which enrollments had increased.

Commissioner S. M. Brownell said factors underlying the increase are the record number of high school graduates, educational benefits for veterans and efforts to interest high school students in continuing their education.

Members of Emanuel Church Elect Officers

At Emanuel Lutheran Church Sunday morning. Loyalty Sunday was observed with consecration of 200 workers who visited homes of the members in the afternoon. In addition election of church officials was held.

Willis Nye was named elder; Fred Baldauf, trustee, Tom Boyd, Carl Schaadt, Paul Sycks, and Edward Schwaderer, deacons, and Richard Langdon, recording secretary.

The every-member visitation was carried out as the stewardship phase of the church's program with pledges taken for support of local church activities and for the benefit of the church at large for 1954. Rev. M. E. Hollensen, pastor, was in charge of the consecration of the workers at the morning service.

FBI Records Sought in Draft Evasion Case

CINCINNATI (AP) — U.S. District Judge John H. Druffel will hear arguments Friday on a motion to disallow the attempts of an attorney to get the FBI records in a draft-dodging case.

He represents 10 of 12 Jehovah's Witnesses indicted Nov. 18 for failure to report for induction. They have pleaded innocent and their trial is set for Monday.

After subpoenas were served on U.S. District Attorney Thomas Stueve, he filed a motion to quash them. He said the defendants were not entitled to the FBI records. The hearing on his motion was set for Friday.

Schmidt represents Will E. Perry, Van Wert; Phillip Edgar Syme, Dayton; Thomas Edward Arnold, Eaton; Raymond Robert Bear, Dayton; Lawrence Edgar Ogborn, Dayton; Glen Arthur Witters Jr., Ansonia, Darke County; Marcellinus E. Reier, Rossburg, Darke County; Norman Culbertson, Lebanon; John Henry McFarland, Middletown, and Robert Morris Brewer, Hamilton.

The others indicted by the federal grand jury are Paul Dennison Dewey Jr., of Dayton, and Dale LeRoy Hershey of Troy.

Fritz Infant

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Fritz of 470½ Oak St. was dead at birth Tuesday at 1:15 p.m. in City Hospital. She was the only child of Erich W. and Mary Louise Zink Fritz. Private funeral services were set for 2 p.m. today in the L. A. Axe and Son Funeral Home on Mt. Vernon Ave. in charge of Rev. Robert Gately, assistant pastor of St. Mary Catholic Church, with burial in St. Mary Cemetery.

Clinton G. Kear

CAREY — Clinton George Kear, 51, president of the Wharton Bank and a bank director, was found dead from a shotgun wound Tuesday night in the barn at his home four miles northeast of Wharton.

Dean McAllister, Wyandot County sheriff, said a note written by Mr. Kear was found, and Dr. B. H. Hathaway, county coroner, returned a verdict of suicide. Mrs. Kear discovered the body of her husband in the barn about 7:15 p.m. after she had returned from looking for someone to help her care for him. He had been seriously ill five weeks, suffering from a heart condition, and was dismissed Tuesday afternoon following four days in Blanchard Valley Hospital at Findlay after a warning by his physician to remain at home in bed.

Mr. Kear, who had farmed in Richland Township in the Wharton Community his entire adult life, was a past member of the Wharton School board, and he was a member of the Church of God at Wharton.

Born Oct. 17, 1902, he was a son of Moses H. and Daisy Kirby Kear. His marriage to Evelyn Harshbarger took place July 30, 1927.

Surviving with his widow are two children, Foster Kear of Kenton and Mrs. Thomas Kotterman of Wharton, four grandchildren, and a brother, Emory Kear of Wharton.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 2:30 p.m. in the Church of God. Rev. Robert Fast will officiate. Burial will be in Wharton Cemetery. Friends may call at the Bristoll Funeral Home in Carey.

Mrs. Don Smith

ASHLEY — Mrs. Ora Workman Smith, 58, wife of Don Smith of east of Ashley, died Tuesday morning in Grant Hospital in Columbus after a long illness. She had been in the hospital a number of times during the course of her ailment.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon in the Alum Creek Friends Church. The body was removed from the C. R. Lee Funeral Home in Ashley to the Smith home where friends may call until Friday afternoon.

Mrs. G. M. Ireland

MT. GILEAD — Mrs. Cora B. Ireland, 79, died at the Elm Crest Rest Home in Mt. Gilead Tuesday at 10:55 a.m. She had been in ill health for a long period of time.

She was born in Auglaize County June 28, 1874 to William and Mary Higgins Saiter. Her husband, G. M. Ireland died in 1935.

One daughter survives. She is Mrs. Wesley Ault of Edison. Also surviving are four half-brothers and two half-sisters. The half-brothers are Freeman Saiter of Zanesville, Clarence Saiter of Grant, Mich., Roy Saiter of Pontiac, Mich., and Oliver Saiter, also of Michigan. Half-sisters are Mrs. Grace Shutts and Mrs. Lena Doelle, both of Grant, Mich.

Funeral services will be Friday at 1:30 p.m. at the Craven Funeral Home, Rev. William Blackwell officiating. Burial will be in Worder Cemetery, near Edison. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Charles Rothschild

BUCYRUS — Charles Rothschild, 81, of New Washington died at 8:30 a.m. today in Bucyrus City Hospital. In ill health seven years, he was admitted to the hospital Tuesday afternoon.

Born May 2, 1872, in Galion, he was the son of Jacob and Rebecca Albright Rothschild. In May, 1893, he married Daisy Burket who died 46 years ago. For 35 years, he operated a farm implement and automobile business in New Washington, retiring in 1935. He served several terms as village councilman, and was a member of the Methodist Church.

Surviving are six children, Mrs. Elmer Meyers of Attica, Mrs. Bessie Kibler of Shelby, Mrs. Cleo Gossman of Cleveland, Mrs. Frederick Geissman and Clyde Rothschild, both of New Washington, and Jacob of Bucyrus, and a sister, Mrs. Nellie Fink of Tiffin.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 2 p.m. in the Methodist Church. Rev. Merlin Vining will officiate. Burial will be in Union Cemetery at New Washington. Friends may call at the Lutz Funeral Home in Bucyrus Thursday from 2 p.m. until 4 and 7 until 9, then at the church after 12:30 p.m. Friday.

Charles S. Shupp

BUCYRUS — Charles S. Shupp, 87, of Oceola died at 3 p.m. Tuesday in Bucyrus City Hospital. Ill a year, he had been in the hospital since Saturday.

Born April 17, 1866, in Holmes Township, he was the son of Henry and Dora Easterday Shupp. In 1886, he married Mary Gearhart who died. His later marriage was to Emma Metzger who preceded him in death also. Previously a salesman for the Fairbanks-Morse Scale Co. of Cleveland, he came to Crawford County when he retired some time ago. He was a member of the Moose Lodge.

Surviving are four nieces, Mrs. Leara Lecrone of Geneva, Mrs. Lula Pfetcher of Windsor, Mo., Mrs. Lottie Pfeifer of Holmes Township, and Mrs. Dorothy Dettoff of Cowitche, Wash. A son and a daughter preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 1:30 p.m. in the Wise Funeral Home in Bucyrus. Rev. Dick Powell will officiate. Burial will be in Brokensword Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday night.

William G. Canfield

William Glen Canfield, 40, a transient worker who came here last Wednesday as a member of a road crew working for the Ohio Sprinkler Co. at 411 Madison Ave., died early today in a hospital at Akron. When taken ill shortly after arrival here, he was admitted to Marion City Hospital Saturday, then was removed to Akron about 11 p.m. Tuesday. He and his wife were staying at the Snyder Hotel. His occupation was pipefitter.

Surviving besides his widow, Mrs. Beulah Canfield, are his mother Mrs. William G. Canfield and a daughter who live in Charleston, W. Va.

The body was sent to the Cuningham Funeral Home at Charleston.

Council Approval Sought

Vacuum Cleaning of Walks Suggested

A request for a franchise to operate a new type of sidewalk cleaning service will be presented to City Council Monday night. It will be made by William B. Noggle of 454 Bellefontaine Ave.

He will ask for permission to contract with downtown Marion merchants for the vacuum cleaning of their sidewalks. Noggle says this would be the first town in the country to try such an idea. He says it would eliminate up to 90 per cent of the dirt and dust which now filter into stores.

THE MAIN IDEA, explained Noggle, is to get the dust removed completely from the sidewalks, rather than push it into the streets and gutters.

About 44 business places have agreed to contract for Noggle's service if the franchise is granted, he said. Others have indicated they will go along with the plan after it was put into operation.

Noggle said he planned to charge the merchants one and one-quarter cents per square foot of sidewalk each month.

Sidewalks would be vacumed six days a wee kunder the plan except days when it rains or snows. On these days a regular brushing machine would be used, rather than the vacuum machine. All cleaning work would be done between 10 p.m. and 7 a.m. to avoid inconvenience to pedestrians and traffic.

THE MACHINES Noggle proposes to use are similar to those used in factories for vacuum sweeping operations. Gasoline powered, they are built so that a man can ride on them while performing the operation.

Noggle said if the idea works successfully, a manufacturing firm has indicated it will redesign the present line of machines to better meet the needs of outside operations.

The machines work on the same principle as the home vacuum sweeper, but are larger and more powerful. Dust and dirt is collected in a container which is emptied at the end of the day. Refuse collected by the vacuum machine would be conveyed to a dumping ground for disposal.

Marion Lumber Dealers Seat William Hutchman

Hutchman succeeds Marlow Fiant of the Avenue Lumber and Supply Co.

Forrest H. Mullen of the Delaware Lumber Co. was elected secretary, succeeding Charles Kocheiser of the Avenue Lumber and Supply Co.

OEA HOLDING MEETING

State Highway Council Looks At Ohio Roads

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Members of the state Highway Construction Council were back at their desks in Columbus today after a two-day tour of roads in the south-central and southwestern Ohio.

Two members, Wilbur M. Cotton and Jesse E. Van Fossen, were on the tour both days, but chairman Clingan Jackson had to return to Columbus for a speech after one day.

Yesterday the council saw projects now under way and studied those proposed for later construction in the Portsmouth and Chillicothe areas. They drove through Athens, but darkness prevented them from going over projects in that area.

In the Chillicothe area they looked over the US. 23 project which by-passes most of that city. They also traveled over U.S. 23 from Chillicothe to Waverly, an atomic plant area four-lane highway that has been approved for construction in 1954.

Council members said they had found U.S. 52 from Cincinnati to Portsmouth is a better road than they had expected. They looked over several small U.S. 52 projects suggested for next year around Portsmouth.

Members labeled Ohio 13 from Chauncey to New Lexington as one of the most crooked roads on the state major thoroughfare system. They commented favorably on the engineering that made that section comparatively safe despite its many curves.

They also studied both U.S. 50 and Ohio 131 in Clermont County. Ohio 131 is on the major thoroughfare system and residents around U.S. 50 have asked that road be made a major thoroughfare instead.

Adopting the language of the times, when we sent the egg back to the chef with our compliments we didn't say it was bad, we merely suggested it might be controversial.

Marion County Grange Group Holds Meeting

At the monthly meeting of Marion County Pomona Grange Saturday night at Progressive Grange, candy and gifts were presented to the children by Santa Claus and a gift exchange was held. Following the meeting, pop corn balls and candy were served by the host grange.

The literary program in charge of Mrs. Ralph Williams, Pomona lecturer, included group singing of Christmas carols, a reading by Mrs. Grace Fletcher of United Grange and Christmas accordian music by Miss Ruth Bosely of Salt Rock Grange.

A report of the youth activities at the state grange convention was given by the Marion County prince and princess, Robert Clinger of Tymochtee Grange and Miss Mary Ellen Knappenberger of Bethlehem Grange. In a contest held, the team of Miss Della Owen of Bowling Green Grange, Mrs. Lois Snare of Montgomery Grange and Mrs. Vernon Gruber of Progessive Grange won over a team composed of Robert Clinger of Tymochtee Grange, Melvin Hill of Kirkpatrick Grange and Ralph Noggle of Martel Grange in a cranberry-yard relay

During the business meeting presided over by William Hutchman, Pomona master, Vernon Gruber and Howard Click, both of Progressive Grange, were appointed to serve on the auditing committee.

A contribution was made to the Chistmas Seal Fund. Eleven subordinate granges were represented and gave reports of the activities of their respective granges. Henry Thibaut, a past Pomona master, was reported to be ill at his home near DeCliff.

Places were drawn for the meeting places for the coming year. The January meeting will be held Jan. 2 at United Grange.

Her Silent Love

Here's a typical summertime scene—but with a difference. Now he can hear what she's playing.

Makers of the motor shown here claim it's "truly quiet," thanks to a new sound-insulating engineering principle. The result of years of research, the 5½ h.p. Sea-Horse insulates the motor from the boat through a revolutionary suspension system, eliminating noises formerly resulting when motor vibrations were amplified by the hull acting as a sounding board.

File Charges Against 8

Strike Situation Tense At Columbus Plane Plant

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police, competing unions, and company officials all acted yesterday in the tense North American Aviation, Inc, strike.

Strained relations grew tauter, as:

1. Columbus officials filed bombing charges against six strikers and Lancaster authorities filed charges against two others.

2. CIO president Walter Reuther asked government officials to investigate whether North American is charging the government for expenses it incurred in the 49-day strike.

3. The Independent Aircraft Workers Assn. (IAWA) asked North Amercan to recognize it instead of the striking CIO-United Auto Workers Local 927 as bargaining agent for plant workers.

4. The company threatened to break off negotiations with the UAW if the IAWA qualifies for a National Labor Relations Board election.

Charges of possession of explosives for illegal purposes were brought in Columbus against Keih Weed, 31; Raymond Hoskinson, 36; Bernard E. Angus, 45; Robert White, 27, all of Columbus, and Daniel L. Mason, 31, and Henry Woltz, 23, of Lancaster.

Charles E. Moore, 30, and Paul J. Rickey, 29, of Columbus, were charged in Lancaster with malicious property destruction.

The dynamite and explosives law provides a prison term of 1 to 20 years. Conviction on the malicious destruction charge in excess of $100 damage carries a one-to-seven-year prison term.

The charges followed a series of Franklin and Lancaster County explosions on the property of non-strikers. Columbus police said they weren't through investigating.

All eight men charged are members of Local 927 but no evidence linking the union with the explosions has been produced, officers said.

E. D. Starkweather, industrial relations director for the jet plane plant, said the company is seriously considering the IAWA's bid for recognition.

If the new group gets the signatures of the 30 per cent of production and maintenance workers necessary for an NLRB election the company will discontinue negotiations with the UAW, he said. IAWA spokesmen appeared confident it had the necessary signatures.

Reuther, who also heads the UAW, telegraphed Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and Comptroller General Lindsey Warren that the company was using newspaper, radio and television advertising to present its side of the dispute.

The union asked an investigation to determine whether the company "propaganda campaign" was being charged off as expenses under defense contracts "at taxpayers' expense."

UAW spokesmen said the Senate Armed Forces Committee has asked the Defense Department to investigate the walkout at North American's plants in Columbus, Fresno and Los Angeles, Calif., where F86 Sabre jets, F10 Super Sabre jets and guided missiles are made.

McCARTHY INSPECTS RUSSIAN GUN. Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis) takes a good look at a .45 caliber, Russian copy of a U. S. submachine gun, attending Senate probe of Communist atrocities in Korea. This and other Red firearms were displayed at the hearing.

Optometry Unit Names Member From Marion

Dr. Glen Burton Jr., Marion optometrist, was recently appointed chaiman of the committee on motorists vision for Zone 12 of the Ohio State Optometric Association. The appointment was made by Dr. A. D. Talbot of Bucyrus, zone governor.

This is Dr. Burton's second year of working with the committee. He is also secretary-treasurer of the association in zone 12 and a member of the state committee on motorists vision.

The committee, of which Dr. Burton is now chairman, works with the state patrol to determine the most efficient screening methods to be used by the patrol. It acts as an advisory group.

NEW TRIAL SOUGHT

CLEVELAND (AP) — Motion for a new trial was filed yesterday by attorneys for Dr. Alexander V. Spaeth, 52, who was convicted by a federal jury last week on perjury charges. In a seven-day trial Spaeth was accused of changing a patient record-card date in order to provide an alibi for Joseph Sanzo, 23, of Cleveland. Sanzo was convicted of bank robbery in a $71,000 holdup of Warren, Ohio, bank official in August 1952.

Lausche Takes Stand on Pike Survey Funds

Says Board of Control Should Act on Issue Of Providing Funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche has indicated he will not ask the Ohio Legislature to consider appropriating $90,000 for a Cincinnati-Conneaut turnpike survey.

Rep. J Frank McClure (R-Ashland), chairman of the House Finance Committee, and Sen. Tom V. Moorehead (R-Muskingum), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, last week asked the governor to put the question before the Legislature next month during a special session.

Yesterday Lausche wrote McClure and Moorehead the state Board of Control should "unhesitatingly approve the making of the incidental expenditures."

McClure and Moorehead, members of the control board, have delayed the study by refusing to approve expenditures of the money needed for it.

They suggested Lausche present the expenditures question to the Legislature when it meets to act on the 500 million dollar highway bond issue approved by the people Nov. 3. Lausche wrote:

"In the face of the existing law which gives the controlling board the power to solve the problem, in my opinion, a declaration of the governor that an 'extraordinary occasion' exists warranting the convening of the General Assembly into special session would be based to say the least, upon thin reasoning"

Lausche said the controlling board is "the ultimate authority" in determining whether the money should be loaned from highway department funds for the survey.

Three other members of the board—Lausche, Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill and State Auditor James A. Rhodes—favor the loan. Four votes are needed for approval.

He said he would "be glad at a later date to further discuss the entire problem" with McClure and Moorehead.

Defiance Jury Indicts Safety Chief, Mayor

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP)—The mayor and safety director of Defiance were indicted for bribery by the grand jury yesterday.

Two indictments against Mayor Elmer C. Rost charge him with accepting bribes totaling about $250; a third charges conspiracy to defraud. Service-Safety Director G. B. Hiatt is charged with two counts of preparing fraudulent vouchers, conspiracy to defraud and soliciting and accepting a bribe.

Rost and Hiatt denied the charges. They are free on $1,000 bond each.

Paul Mack, manager of a Defiance store, testified he gave money to Rost and four tires to Hiatt as kickbacks on the sale of 16 tires to the Defiance police department.

The investigation followed Rost's request that his suit contesting loss of the Nov. 3 election be withdrawn because he lacked finances to continue the action. Alner Ryan defeated Rost by two votes in the mayoralty election.

Marion Church Women Set Christmas Program

"Christmas Around the World" will be the theme of the Women's Society meeting at Epworth Methodist Church Thursday night. A film of that title will be shown, children will take part in portrayal of Christmas scenes, and a special guest, Mrs. Richard Zachman of near Marion will speak from her own knowledge of "Christmas in Japan," assisted by a group of girls.

Mrs. John Schilling and Mrs. Edwin Cheney, in charge of children's and youth work of the WSCS will be in charge. Taking part also will be Miss Margaret Huffman. Devotions will be by the Suzanna Wesley Circle, and the Lucy Webb Hayes Circle will serve refreshments. On display will be articles remaining from the recent WSCS bazaar. Time of the meeting will be 7:30.

Music will be by the trio composed of James Beverly and Ronald and Carl Breese, accompanied by Mrs. John Salisbury, who will play popular Christmas music, and Jerry Maddox, accordionist. Approximately 75 children will take part altogether. Members are to bring clothing for Korea.

AWARDED DAMAGES

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Paul Shafer, American Twp. constable, was awarded $5,500 damages from former Allen County Sheriff W. Ray Dailey for false arrest yesterday by a Common Pleas Court jury. Shafer and another constable, Robert Barnum, were jailed overnight Oct. 21, 1951, after a grain elevator night watchman reported them as prowlers. They said they were investigating a nearby gambling place. Barnum has a similar suit scheduled to be heard Dec. 21.

News of the District

Galion

New officers were chosen when members of the Friendship Class of the Market Street Methodist Church met recently for a potluck supper at the home of Mrs. Eugene Tischer.

Those chosen to serve are: president, Mrs. Robert Dunbar; vice president, Mrs. John Morris; secretary, Mrs. Lloyd Hollowell; and treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Roelle. Devotions were led by Rev. Raymond Butler, pastor of the church, and business was conducted by Mrs. Russell Fisher.

Three members of the senior high shool speech class, taught by Miss Miriam Sayre, presented a program. They were Carol Derfler, Sheila Brooke, anl June Iams. A gift exchange concluded the evening.

Red rose favors were presented to members and guests of the Daughters of Union Veterans when they arrived at the Armory for the 27th annual Christmas party. The program included readings by Mrs. Freeda Eichler and Mrs. Florence Stevens and an original poem read by Mrs. Edith Perry.

In games and contests, prizes went to Mrs. Cora Keyes, Mrs. Frances Brewer and Mrs. Laura Roesch. Gifts were distributed during a musical game. When refreshments were served, a musical theme also was carried out. Hostesses were Mrs. Eichler, Mrs. Blanche Arndt and Mrs. Hazel Smith.

Formal initiation was held for three new members when the Auxiliary to the F. O. E. met recently. Mrs. Therese Dowty presided. The group voted to give a donation to Boys' Village at Smithville. The "wishing well candle" will be kept by the lodge for a year, and the money will be turned over to the Damon Runyan Cancer fund. This was explained by Mrs. Dorothy Eusey.

Plans were made for the annual Christmas party and potluck dinner on Dec. 17 when the Memorial children of the local aerie will be special guests.

The audit report was given by Mrs. Joyce Wildenthaler. Mrs. Mary Northrup and Mrs. Ethel Baker won the mystery prize and door prize, respectively. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Ida Fabian, Mrs. Ailce Sargel, Mrs. Julia Snyder and Mrs. Edith Shafer.

The annual Christmas party of Rose Hawthorne Circle, Daughters of Isabella, was held at the home of Miss Catherine Schuler. Members sang Christmas carols with organ accompaniment played by Miss Estelle Shuler. In games, prizes went to Miss Veronica Kelley, Miss Mary Graham, and to Mrs. Charles Sens of Marion, a guest.

Gifts were exchanged, and money was donated to a worthy cause. Mrs. Luke Finnegan of Marion, an out-of-town member, and Mrs. William Ginder of Galion, a guest, were among those present. The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. Paul Dickerson of Marion.

Mrs. Eldon Port Jr., who recently returned from Esca Blanca, Africa, told members of the Frauenverein at Peace Lutheran parish house about her trip to that country. She spoke of the life and customs of the people as she observed them during her stay. Miss Emma Biebighauser presided for the meeting which was opened with Christmas scripture, hymns and prayers.

Christmas carols were used to open the program when Mrs. Dora Gottfried read an article on the Christmas pageant which is held at Logan. A potluck supper was served at the conclusion of the meeting. Mrs. Emma Curfman had charge of a gift exchange, and Mrs. Walter Sargel was supper chairman.

Open house at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Martin, was held during the past week to announce the marriage of Miss Patricia Rae Martin and Everett L. Sparks, Jr. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett L. Sparks. The couple were married Wednesday, Nov. 23, in a single ring service at Liberty, Ind., by Rev. R. E. Dowden, pastor of the Church of Christ. The bride and bridegroom are graduates of Galion High School, both with the class of 1950. He attended Bowling Green State University. Both are employed at the North Electric Manufacturing Co. office. The couple are residing for the present at the Martin home.

Mrs. Ralph Sipes was installed as worthy matron of Naomi chapter, No. 47, Order of Eastern Star, along with other officers of the order, Friday night. Mrs. Harold J. Seemann, past matron, was installing officer.

Announcement is being made here by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Davis of the engagement of their daughter, Darlene, to Edgar Strohm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Strohm, of near New Washington. No date has been announced for the wedding. Miss Davis attended Galion High School, and is employed at the Stratbury Manufacturing Co. Mr. Strohm was employed by the Wilson Products Co. of Shelby until called into army service. He attended the New Washington schools.

LaRue

"Current Events" were given in response to roll call when the Good Friends Club met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Arthur Waters. Plans were made for the Christmas party, Dec. 17, at the home of Mrs. Silas Clark. A paper on "Building of Boulder Dam" was given by Mrs. Earl Hennis and contests were conducted by Mrs. Benton Deman. Winners were Mrs. William Trihaft, Mrs. Everett Harris and Mrs. Ivah Owen.

—:—

Mrs. Flora Alt was hostess for the meeting of the WCTU at her home Friday afternoon. The meeting opened with the group singing "Joy to the World," and the devotions were led by Mrs. Edgar Lightfoot. She read the Christmas story from Luke for the scripture reading. Mrs. J. A. Winkler was program leader and opened the program with an article, "Total Abstinence through Radio." Other articles were "Total Abstinence—the Christian Ideal" Mrs. S. W. Fields, and "Night Clubs Are Closing," Mrs. Lightfoot.

A game supper preceded the regular meeting of Bowling Green Grange Friday night. Mrs. Neil Little reported that the project for the year taken by the home economics committee is the polio foundation at Magnetic Springs. Mrs. Albert Amstutz gave a report on the projects of the past years' committee. Announcement was made that the Dec. 25 meeting will be held on Dec. 18 at which time there will be a 25 cent gift exchange and each family will bring pop corn and candy for refreshments.

The program was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Laird who were recently married and opened with the choir singing "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." A reading, "Sweetheart" was by Eston Williams, followed by a choir number, "Quilting Party." A playlet "The Proposal" was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Buyer followed by a piano duet, "Bridal Chorus" by Mrs. Cletus Murphy and daughter Rose Ann. Another reading, "The Wife" was by Mr. Williams, followed by a skit, "Truant Husband" by Mrs. J. T. Jones and Mrs. Neil Little. "Put on Your Old Grey Bonnet" by the choir closed the program. A shower for the newlyweds followed the program.

"Joy to the World" sung by the group followed by prayer opened the W.S.C.S. general meeting on Wednesday evening in the church annex. During the business meeting the project of furnishing the District parsonage was discussed and the group voted that each circle will be responsible for raising a portion of the money.

"For Unto Us a Child is Given" was the theme of the worship service led by Mrs. Donald Virden. Four members, Miss LaVerne Weist, Mrs. Delbert Greenwood, Mrs. Russel Young and Miss Mae Keeler, representing four countries around the world gave prayers. "There's a Song in the Air" by the group was followed by a meditation on "Gracious Gifts are Given."

A portion of the study book, "That the World May Know," was given by Mrs. Norman Griggs.

Richwood

Mt. Carmel Lodge 303 F. and A.M. met recently for installation of new officers. H. R. Fisher was the installing officer and Chester Parrott, installing marshal. Dean Cochran was installed as worshipful master. Other officers are: Perry Allen, Dave Robinson, C. P. Johnston, R. D. Fetter, Lee Hagenlocker, Carl Bugg, Marion Griffith, James Endsley, Charles Adams, Nelson Blue, Pearl Johnston. Refreshments were served by the wives of the 1954 officers.

The Hopevale Mission Circle of the First Baptist Church met recently in the church parlors. The devotional period "One Saviour-One Fellowship," was conducted by Mrs. Claude Swartz, followed by the story "The Magic Christmas Tree." The chairman of social relations, Mrs. F. K. McDaniel, read a letter from the groups overseas family. Plans were made to send a box overseas this month containing lard, oleo, candy and clothes. There was a discussion of CARE packages. Announcements were made of the appreciation party for Rev. Robert Turner, and the annual Christmas party, Dec. 16. The program, "Joyful Joyful We Adore Thee," a Christmas service was in charge of Mrs. Giles McDaniel. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Wayne Dilger and Mrs. John Brobeck.

Carey

Pfc. Fred Young, son of Mrs. Grace Young of Carey, who returned home in September after 14 months' service in Korea, has been transferred from Camp Atterbury, Ind., to Fort Sheridan, Ill.

—:—

The annual kiddies' theatre party will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday Dec. 19, at the Carey theatre. Those too young to come alone or with older children, may be brought to the theatre lobby to meet Santa Claus after the show, as no adults will be admitted to the movie.

—:—

Mrs. Dorcas Plott of Carey, is announcing the engagement of her daughter, Estella, to Dean Dyer, son of Mrs. Caleb Puckett. No date has been set for the wedding.

—:—

Mrs. F. H. Frederick entertained the members of the Fortnightly Club Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Cloyce Lanning, Mrs. Samuel Gunther and Mrs. Carl Krout had charge of the program.

Beech

Rev. Bruce Harris of the North Robinson EUB Church was the guest minister Sunday night at the Rural Salem EUB Church. The North Robinson Men's Chorus gave two selections accompanied by Mrs. Harris at the piano. Rev. Harris preached in the absence of the pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Gene Clark, who for the past two weeks have been assisting in rvival services in the Greenwood EUB Church in Marion.

The Church Fellowship of the Salem EUB Church met Tuesday night in the church basement for its regular monthly meeting. Devotions were led by Mrs. Russell Gillson. Committees were read by Cifford Strine for the coming year. Games in the social hour were in charge of Mrs. Robert Graham. The next meeting will be held on Jan. 5 following the evangelistic services at which time Rev. Frank Hamblem of Lima will be the evangelist.

Crestline

The annual Christmas party of the Past Councilors Club of Good Hope Council Daughters of America was held in the K of P Hall Friday night with Mrs. Paul Jeffrey as table chairman and Miss Helen Levy and Mrs. Clark Perman as hostesses.

Harding Science Students Prep For Entry in National Contest

For the first time, Harding High seniors will get a chance at the annual Westinghouse Science Talent Search this year. The contest is open to any boy or girl who is in his last year in an accredited secondary school—public, private or parochial—who will complete college entrance qualifications before Oct. 1, 1954, and who has not competed in any previous Science Talent Search.

A science aptitude examination to be given next Monday at the high school, a personal data blank and secondary school record filled out by teachers and principal, and a report of about 1,000 words on "My Scientific Project" by the student, are the requirements for entering the competition. The entires will then be sent to the Science Clubs of America in Washington, D. C., and 40 contestants with highest talent will be chosen for all-expense paid trips to the capital city for the Science Talent Institute, Feb. 25-March 1. All contestants invited to the institute will receive the gold emblem of the SCA.

From the contestants attending the institute, one student will be chosen to receive a four - year Westinghouse grand science scholarship of $2,800 and a second will be selected to receive a four-year scholarship of $2,000. Eight additional contestants will receive four-year-scholarships of $400 each. Additional scholarships totaling $3,000 will be awarded at the discretion of the judges.

Each scholarship may be applied toward a course in science or engineering at a degree-granting institution selected by the winner and approved by a scholarship committee.

Another new goal for science enthusiasts at Harding High will be the Bausch and Lomb Honorary Science Award which will be presented in the spring to the outstanding senior student in science. The award will be given at graduation time. The award winner will then be eligible for one of three science scholarships at the University of Rochester, N. Y. Each scholarship has a value of $3,200 with $800 allotted for each of the four years. The scholarships are sponsored annually by the Bausch and Lomb Optical Co.

Plans for the first spring science fair are in preliminary stages at the high school. A committee chairmaned by Thomas Bain, science instructor, which includes Miss Ruth Turner, James Lawler and Mark Baker, is laying plans for the event which will enable students to display their individual science projects and to exchange ideas with other pupils.

Basketball Player At Kent State Dies After Game Injury

KENT, Ohio (AP) — A 19-year-old basketball forward for Kent State University died today of injuries doctors said he suffered last night in Kent's game with Bowling Green State University.

The youth was Kenneth B. Eshleman, a former student at Coventry High School, south of here.

Dr. A. O. Deweese, Kent State physician, said Eshleman apparently suffered a hemorrhage at the base of his brain.

School officials said Eshleman was hurt in the fourth period of last night's game when Clarence Yackey, 6-foot-5 Bowling Green forward, pivoted and accidentally hit him in the jaw with his elbow.

Eshleman was given oxygen last night at the Kent State gymnasium and again today at the university's hospital.

The coroner had not yet ruled on the case.

Eaton Factory To Begin Work On Thursday

Start of production at the Eaton Manufacturing Co.'s Marion Forge Division plant is scheduled for Thursday morning, Samuel H. Wood, plant supervisor, announced today.

Actually only one production line will be placed in operation with others to be started as quickly as possible. The one line starting tomorrow will be for the machining of axle drums to prepare them for assembly.

Considerable amounts of production machinery remain to be installed in the plant, Wood said. However, the plant building is completed for the most part. Still incomplete are the cafeteria, the front entrance, and a large open building for steel storage.

Outside, landscaping of the grounds is moving ahead. Grading is finished and work of paving a driveway into plant grounds is nearing completion. Also a neon has been erected on the front of the building.

The plant is located west of the city on Route 95 just west of the Marion Industries plant of the Motor Products Corp. Construction of the new plant began July 27, 1952, with ground-breaking ceremonies.

Missing Woman Found Safe, Visiting Relatives

A Marion woman listed as missing from her residence at the Marion County Fairgrounds a week ago has been located visiting relatives in another part of the state, city police reported today.

Mrs. Edith Miller was reported missing from a mobile home parked on the fairgrounds by her husband Thurston Miller. He made the report to police at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 28 and said she was missing since the day before. Police broadcast a statewide message describing Mrs. Miller and later learned she had gone to visit relatives where she is now staying.

Following New Accident Rule

Written Report on All Auto Mishaps Being Received for 62 of 88

Nearly all counties in Ohio are complying with the new law requiring written traffic accident reports be filed with the Ohio Department of Highway Safety, U. C. Felty, director of the department in Columbus announced today.

Felty said 62 Ohio counties have been cooperating with the provisions of the law and have made written reports since the law took effect Oct. 16.

Some of the other 26 counties do not have accident investigation bureaus because of lack of manpower, Felty explained. Then too, some sheriff's offices have not be called out to investigate any accidents since the law became effective.

Felty promised a county-by-county check of those not reporting accidents to determine if there is any failure to comply with the law.

Cities with populations of 5,000 or more are required to file only a summary report of accidents after 30 days. Felty said a majority of cities have filed reports since October. He said the cooperation received from the law enforcement bodies indicates they are sincere in their efforts to reduce the number of traffic accidents in the state.

Corporal D. M. Dewalt, commander of the Marion post of the highway patrol, explained the new system eliminates the system of persons obtaining accident reports at local patrol headquarters. They must now be obtained at Patrol General Headquarters in Columbus, he said. Only persons who were involved in the accidents, or their legal representative will be allowed excess to the reports.

Harding Cage Crew Tops Columbus Aquinas 66-57

Prexies Shake Off Slump To Notch 4th Straight Win

Harding's speedy Presidents raced to their fourth straight win last night by cruising past Columbus Aquinas 66-57 at the Harding gym.

The Prexies rebounded late in the final period after seeing a 17-point lead shrink to a mere three-point cushion in the period. Starting the final stana, Harding led 53-36 but the visitors started clicking and with the help of erratic passing by the Prexies reduced the margin to three points in the first three and a half minutes of the period.

Lead Reduced

Harding was unable to score until 3:55 of the period had passed. Ralph Reiser and Bill Nye led the resurging Terriers. They dumped in 13 points before Harding could score.

Aquinas scored first and led through most of the first stanza although Harding knotted the count at 3-3, 11-11 and 16-16. The final tie resulted when Dave Schnelker hit on a free throw with 24 seconds remaining. Tom Goble, however, tipped in a rebound to give the visitors an 18-16 edge before the period ended.

Max Kaelber and Schnelker scored quick goals to shove the Prexies ahead early in the second and they managed to retain the lead through the period. They managed to spurt to a 10-point cushion before their attack slowed to give them a 36-31 halftime edge.

Outscore Visitors

The Prexies controlled play during the third and appeared to have the verdict clinched when they spurted into a substantial lead. They dumped in 17 markers while Aquinas scored only five in that stanza. The visitors collected only one field goal during the period, a jump shot by Reiser.

Coach Bob McQuade's Terriers came storming back and whittled away at the Harding lead. On three straight down-floor maneuvers, Harding lost the ball without taking a shot. Three turn-overs came on bad passes and one on a traveling infraction. Four other times, rebounds were pulled in and taken all the way for scores by the visitors.

Harding regained its balance and proceeded to seal the game with a spurt of its own. Conroy, Donnie Smith and Doug Bibler scored to push Harding ahead 60-52 with 2:44 to play. Conroy and Bob Hamor each dropped in three points in the final minute and a half to nail down the verdict.

Hamor Leads Way

Hamor was the big gun for Coach Jim Lawler's crew with 19 points. Conroy dropped in 17. Max Kaelber and Doug Bibler with eight each and Smith and Schnelker with seven rounded out the scoring. Aquinas' Ralph Reiser with 22 paced the visitors. Nye accounted for 14 and Goble had 10.

The Prexies, after a slow start, hit on 27 of 78 attempted field goals for a 35 per cent average. They added 12 of 17 shots from the foul line. A total of 24 fouls was called against Harding while Aquinas was charged with 12.

Al Beach's Vice Presidents squeezed through to a 52-50 win in the preliminary game. The winners spurted to a 15-11 lead in the first period and were ahead 30-25 at the half before the little Terriers rallied to take a 39-38 lead at the start of the final period.

Wins on Foul Shots

Harding eked out the win as Harold Jones broke a 49-all tie with 62 seconds remaining. Harding held a 30-25 lead at halftime, but Aquinas fought back in the second half to make the game a real battle.

Harding was held to eight points in the third quarter while Aquinas scored 14 to lead 39-38 going into the final stanza. In the fourth period, the score was tied four times, and the lead switched hands five times before Jones put the local team on top to stay.

Ebert Nets 26 To Lead Bucks Over St. Louis

CHICAGO (AP) — Ohio State and Purdue came dangerously near defeat last night, but preserved their perfect season's basketball records against nonconference teams.

Ohio State beat St. Louis University 84-83, leading all the way but barely warding off a Billiken finish that produced 11 points in the final two minutes. Paul Ebert scored 26 points for the Buckeyes.

Purdue defeated Bradley, 77-73, but had to go into overtime to do it. The regulation game ended 69-69 and Joe Sexson and Maurice Lorenz combined for seven of the eight points the Boilermakers scored in the extra period.

Michigan, the only other Big Ten team in action last night, walked by little Valparaiso (Ind.), 10-62, setting a new Wolverine team scoring record in the process.

Big Ten teams now have won 19 games against outside opponents, and have lost only one. Northwestern suffered that setback, by Notre Dame, 75-66.

TOURNEY DATES SET

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Invitation Basketball Tournament, oldest of the postseason tourneys, will be held in Madison Square Garden March 6, 8, 9, 11 and 13.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

One of the most interesting basketball games of the season will be held Saturday night at the Green Camp High School floor. It will send the high-flying Pythian Drugs of Columbus against a team composed of Marion County coaches.

SHORT

That game will be the opener of a two-game card, scheduled to get under way at 7:30. In the nightcap, the Green Camp Elevator team will meet the House of David crew.

The game featuring coaches is expected to draw a capacity crowd to the new gymnasium.

Nearly all the county schools will be represented in the game and five former county high school stars will be seeing action. Ted Dennison, LaRue coach, is a graduate of that school where he copped the county scoring title during his high school career. Allen Augenstein of Claridon graduated at that school, and was another all-county selection as were Morral's Vern Hensel, Green Camp graduate, and Prospect's assistant coach, Fred McCumber, who played at Morral. Bob Kelly, head man at Prospect, held down the pivot spot for three years while attending Caledonia High School.

Ralph Weber, Waldo's new mentor, put in his high school action, with the Harding Presidents while the remainder played away from the county scene. Walker Huffman, Meeker pilot, obtained his first cage action as a big gun at Zanesville High School and Maurice Young of Green Camp played on Michigan's high school floors. Len Walls at Caledonia is a former West Virginia star.

The Drugs will probably give the coaches a busy evening. The Columbus team already has completed a round in two city leagues in Columbus and has rolled up an impressive mark of 1 wins against a pair of losses.

Ambrose Towers who sparked the East squad, is the big gun in the team's attack but receives a lot of help from former teammates Tony Braxton, Lo Miller, Wayne Shadrack, Roland Kelly, Fred Andrews and Henry Gilbert. Former Central stars with the Drugs include Dave Caldwell, John Mixon. Walt Blakely and Sonny Nesbitt.

The games are being sponsored by the newly-organized Green Camp Lions Club.

OFFICIALS TO MEET

The Mid-Ohio Officials Association will hold a regular meeting tonight at 7:30. The meeting is scheduled at the YMCA.

Shrine Gridders Ready for Play

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Football players from all over the country will begin checking in Dec. 18 for the annual East-West Shrine charity game Jan. 2.

Selection of these 24-man teams was completed yesterday. The East team includes:

Ends — Thomas Hague, Ohio State; Joseph Collier, Northwestern; Henry Lemire, Holy Cross; John Ryan, Illinois.

Tackles — Arthur Hunter, Notre Dame; Donald Chelf, Iowa; George Jacoby, Ohio State.

Centers — Ted Kukowski, Syracuse; Jerry Hilgenberg, Iowa.

Pleasant Defeated After Hard Battle

Pleasant's cagers fought down to the final gun before dropping a 55-46 decision to visiting Byhalia Tuesday night. The losers trailed by two points going into the final period but three quick buckets by Byhalia iced the game.

The winners jumped ahead 12-6 in the opening canto but Pleasant whittled the lead to a mere two points 22-20, at intermission and stayed with Byhalia at the three quarter mark, which found the winners ahead 36-34.

Pleasant outscored the winners from the field, 20-19, but Byhalia, which fouled the losers only six times, made good on 17 foul shots resulting out of the 19 fouls committed by Pleasant.

Jerry Gorby and John Freshour paced the Pleasant attack with 18 and 17 points respectively. McAllister with 15 was aided by Lingrel with 12 and Jolliff with 11 for the winners.

In the preliminary clash, Pleasant's reserves marked up a 29-17 triumph as Bob Lill and Gene Arnold each countered nine points for the winners. DeWitt also had nine tallies for the losers. Pleasant travels to Martel Friday.

Big Ten Teams Fare Well Against Outside Opponents

NEW YORK (AP)—The rest of the nation's basketball teams should be glad when December is over because then the Big Ten will withdraw into its own private conference competition.

So far, at least, the Big Ten appears loaded with basketball talent this winter. Topped by Indiana, the defending NCAA champion, Big Ten teams have won 19 of 20 games against outside foes so far. Only Northwestern, which stumbled before Notre Dame Monday night, has been beaten.

The Big Ten won three more last night, although two of them were close. Ohio State stopped St. Louis 84-83; Purdue edged Bradley 77-73 in overtime; and Michigan swamped Valparaiso 100-62.

St. Louis scored 11 points in the last two minutes against Ohio State but two free throws by John Miller with 13 seconds to play provided the winning margin. Purdue trailed Bradley for three periods, led briefly only to be caught in the final minute and then won in the extra period with seven points by Joe Sexson and Maurice Lorenz. Jim Barron scored 22 points as Michigan topped its previous all-time high basketball score.

Wake Forest, overlooked in the preseason poll, thumped seventh-ranking North Carolina State 81-69 on a 49-point splurge in the second half. Wake Forest won the Southern Conference title last season. Dickie Hermic scored 30 points for the sharp-shooting Demons.

Corky Devlin turned in a 33-point performance for George Washington as the Colonials swamped West Virginia 106-75 in a Southern onference game.

Seton Hall, ranked second in the nation a season ago when it won the National Invitation Tournament in New York, suffered its worst defeat in two years as it lost to a well-balanced Temple Club 73-59.

Holy Cross, apparently the power in the Northeast, outclassed Massachusetts 89-42 with the regulars playing less than half the game. Maryland defeated William and Mary 69-54 and Davidson won its first contest against a major opponent since last February in beating South Carolina 65-56.

Houston of the Missouri Valley defeated Texas A&M of the Southwest Conference 62-56. Tennessee beat Clemson of the Atlantic Coast Conference 82-56. Baylor breezed past West Texas State 79-57. Arkansas whipped Northwest Louisiana 71-62.

Western Kentucky had a surprisingly close call before trimming Middle Tennessee 88-80. Bowling Green swamped Kent State 92-67.

In the Far West, Seattle defeated Pacific Lutheran 75-54.

Barons' Jinx at Fort Wayne Stands; Komets Win 3-2

Troy Bruins Here Tonight In Battle for Third Spot

Special to The Star

FORT WAYNE—Marion's Barons were still looking for their first victory over Fort Wayne's oft-beaten Komets after last night's game, in which the Komets scored their fourth straight over the Barons, 3-2. The same score by which the local skaters had won two of the three previous meetings.

The arons return home tonight to meet Troy's ruins on the Coliseum rink. Troy currently stands in third place two points ahead of the local team. A win by the Barons would tie the two for the third spot.

Two goals within a space of one minute and 14 seconds in the final period beat the Barons, who built up a lead of 2-0 in the second period and went into the third leading by 2-1. Dutch Delmonte and Tony Poeta scored in the second period. Fort Wayne was a man short on Delmonte's goal.

Fort Wayne cut that lead on a goal by Vic Demarco with 4:30 of the second period remaining. They tied it after 12:22 of play in the third period on a lucky shot that bounced off George Drysdale and into the Marion net. The winning goal came at 13.36 when Billy Watson rammed the puck past Lou Crowdis as he lay sprawled in front of the net. Marion was skating a man short.

Crowdis stopped 12 Komets shots in the first period and Ivan Walmsley kicked away 15 by Marion. Phil Vitale played a stout defensive game and was a big factor in holding down the Fort Wayne score.

Dutch Delmonte of Marion and Edgar Blondin got into a fight on the ice and renewed it with even more vigor in the penalty box. Delmonte drew five minutes for fighting and an additional 10 for misconduct. Bondin drew two and 10. Williard Hass, Fort Wayne wing man, fractured an ankle and will be out eight weeks. Attendance was 3030, smallest of the season.

Marion's Footballers, Rotary Hear Chuck Mather

Live Life Like Champs, State's Top Coach Advises Group

TWENTY-FIVE players from each of the two schools along with the coaching staffs were guests of the club. Mather addressed his talk directly to them.

The Massillon mentor described football as a game of "ups and downs." He said he is fortunate to be in the midst of an "up" period right now.

The speaker described football as "very close to life." Lessons learned in playing football can be used throughout life and the same basic principles apply, he said. "It teaches you to be a winner," he added.

Elimination of mistakes is the most important thing in Mather's mind in turning out a winning football team. "A perfect game is impossible," he said. "But the winner is always the guy who makes the fewest mistakes."

"LIVE LIKE a champ if you are going to be a champ," Mather advised the prep school gridders. First requirement of a championship football team is the readiness and ability to take on all comers. Warning against probable letdowns, Mather advised strict adherence to training rules.

It's tough, he admitted, and it takes courage to follow rules while friends live as they please. But the gridder who wants to be tops finds it worthwhile, he added. Almost any boy can be a good football player if he wants to and is willing to sacrifice and work for it, he said.

Mather told of his first assignment at Brilliant High School in Jefferson County. During that first season, his squad lost seven straight games and would have lost eight "but for an act of God." He said a foot and a half of snow covered the gridiron and the eighth game was cancelled.

He told the audience he was thrilled when his cage team won its opening game 18-17. However, that joy was shortlived when it promptly dropped its next 17.

MATHER ENDED his talk by passing along the motto of his staff and players. He told the audience, "It takes work to be good and if we are not good we have no one but ourselves to blame."

At the conclusion of his talk, Mather showed a seven - minute movie, "Touchdown Town." Produced by RKO-Pathe News and narrated by Andre Baruch, the film gave a picture of the work put into building the Tigers into a state championship team by Mather and his staff. It depicted the interest of the townspeople in the school athletic program and the work of the Massillon Booster Club.

Mather was introduced by William Hamor, program chairman for December. Dr. James A Greetham, Rotary president, presided.

VISITING Rotarians at the meeting included the speaker, Art Baker of Hornell, N. Y., and David W. Reaney of Delaware.

Vander Meer Gets Manager Position

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Old Johnny (Double No Hit) Vander Meer is coming back to the Class B Piedmont League he left 17 years ago for the major leagues.

The onetime wizard of the Cincinnati pitching staff is going to manage the Richmond Colts in 1954.

Vander Meer, now 39, hopes that when he leaves the Piedmont League this time, he'll go back to the majors—as a manager.

Carey Cage Squad Posts Second Win

CAREY — Carey's Blue Devils won their second game in three starts Tuesday night by tripping McCutchenville 76-62 here. The locals took a 20-11 lead in the opening quarter and added 33 markers in the second quarter to clinch the victory.

Jim Jacoby was the big gun for winners with 24 points. Jim Draper came in with 14 while Richard Corron added 12 and Dick Dennison dropped in 11. Bland was high for the losers with 22.

Carey's futures notched a 42-31 win in the preliminary. Both squads travel to Kenton for their next game Friday.

Donians Lose Early Lead, Belted 71-59

Caledonia jumped into an early lead last night against Edison but was unable to defend it and bowed 71-59 in a game played at Caledonia.

The Donians led 19-15 at the end of the opening frame and had a 31-28 cushion at the half. The visitors pumped in 20 points in the third stanza and added 23 in the fourth to win going away.

Joe Green collected 27 points for the Donians to take scoring laurels. Rice added 14. Weston was Edison's big gun with 22 while Bailey added 12.

The Edison reserves nailed down a 63-42 decision in the preliminary. Ronnie Gist with 15 and Robert Walker with 13 were high for the Donians. Bailey with 18 topped the Edison attack.

Caledonia's game with New Bloomington in the Marion County League scheduled for Friday night has been postponed until Dec. 19, school officials reported today.

Edison Junior High Rolls to 60-19 Win

Coach George Whitehead cleared his bench last night as his Edison Junior High squad romped to its second straight victory, a decisive 60-19 win over the Pleasant Juniors on the losers' floor.

Pleasant was only two points behind when the first quarter ended on a 9-7 count. But in the second frame Edison outscored its opposition 23-3 and the rout was on.

Edison scored 54 of its points on field goals, only six from the foul line. Pleasant, on the other hand, scored 11 points on free throws, only eight on field goals.

Phil Sykes was the top man of the evening. He scored more points than the entire Pleasant squad as he poured in 23 to pace the Edison attack. VanRuskin was high man for the losers with 10.

Edison won its first contest last week, a 40-24 decision over the Prospect Juniors. Tomorrow night Edison travels to Richwood.

Waldo Wins No. 4, Defeats Delaware

Waldo racked up a victory in non-league play last night to run its season record to 4-1.

The defending league champs downed Delaware St. Mary 52-36.

Rex Henry led the victors as he tallied 11 points. Keith Augenstein and Stan Yake also came in with scoring honors with 10 and nine points, respectively.

Waldo sees next action Friday night when it entertains Meeker in a county league contest. Waldo is currently tied for first place in the circuit with a 2-0 league record.

Popular Songs Fall on Evil Days

The popular song dodge has fallen on strange and, I think, evil days. Turn on the "Hit Parade" and you'll hear a song called "You You You" or another song called "Oh," neither of which resemble the songs my mother used to sing to me. You'll hear a lot of hillbilly songs with lines like "I see the moon, the moon sees me. Down through the leaves of the old crabtree." And you'll probably hear "Ebb Tide" which, I think, is the only good tune of the lot.

J. CROSBY

More interesting than what you will hear is what you won't hear. In "Billboard's" last rating of the ten most popular songs, there is not a single song by any of the gentlemen generally considered our greatest songwriters — Irving Berlin, Rodgers & Hammerstein, Cole Porter, Harold Arlen, Frank Loesser, Arthur Schwartz — well, name anybody.

AND WHY IS THIS A group of songwriters charge, in a $150 million triple damage suit, that the broadcasting industry has set up its own outfit, BMI (Broadcast Music, Inc.), which has such complete control of the songs broadcast on radio and television that it is throttling the songs of its competitor, ASCAP (American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers).

Virtually the last story I covered, before entering the Army in 1941, was the formation of BMI by the broadcasting industry. At the time it didn't look as if BMI stood much chance as a serious competitor because ASCAP owned all the reputable composers.

ASCAP still does. Yet its members, the greatest songwriters we have, don't have hit songs any more. And BMI, heavily subsidized by the broadcasters, has grown into a huge octopus with 1,300 music publishers which seems like more music publishers than anyone conceivably needs.

BMI members are turning out some perfectly terrible songs which nevertheless are recorded and juke-boxed and played on the air. ASCAP composers have trouble even getting their songs recorded.

OF COURSE, it's conceivable that American tastes have decomposed to the extent where Americans only want to listen to "You You You." But I doubt it. It is the contention of the composers filing the suit that the broadcast industry is systematically keeping ASCAP tunes off the air so the public never has a chance to make hits of them.

Whether this is true or not, the court will have to determine but certainly thee have been some vast and not very pleasant changes in the music business. For one thing Broadway and Hollywood (most of whose composers are ASCAP) almost never produce a hit song any more, whereas in the old days they produced all of them.

In the last three years, for example, there have been many hit musicals but only three hit songs from Broadway shows — Irving Berlin's "You're Just in Love," Harold Rome's "Wish You Were Here," and Richard Rodgers "No Other Love."

Every one of those three shows was either wholly or partially backed by RCA which owns NBC and is a big stockholder in BMI—and therefore presumably allowed them to become hits on the air.

IN THE OLD DAYS before BMI, a single picture by, say, Irving Berlin would produce as many as three song hits. Yet in the last three years, during which the picure business, produced at least 50 major musical pictures, there have been no more than four or five song hits. Two of these hits, incidentally, were plugged into fame by Mario Lanza and one of these, "Loveliest Night of the Year," is based on an old tune in the public domain.

Many good songwriters such as Arthur Schwartz, Harold Arlen, Dorothy Fields and Mack Gordon have written musical pictures which didn't result in a single hit song. "The Bandwagon," for example, a smash at the box office, didn't produce a single hit song. Years ago, it would probably have had at least three.

Our greatest songwriter, Irving Berlin, wrote two good songs in the last year — "For The Very First Time" and "Sittin' in the Sun." Neither got off the ground. "Sittin' in the Sun" was recorded by Frankie Laine, who is normally pretty hot at pushing songs. But it wasn't a hit. The song on the other side of the record was a hit though. It was a BMI song.

IF THE PUBLIC WANTS hillbilly and "You You You," for heaven's sake, let 'em have 'em. But let the rest of us have Cole Porter and Irving Berlin and Rodgers and Hammerstein and the rest of them. Their greatness as songwriters is attested to by the fact you can hear their melodies all over the world — in Paris and Rome and Berlin and Helsinki and Vienna. But you can't seem to hear them over here.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (AP)—Tobacco stocks fell sharply today in an otherwise narrowly mixed stock market.

The decline of the tobaccos ran to between 1 and 4 points in active trading.

American Tobacco fell as much as 3 3/4. Liggett & Myers 3 5/8. Philip Morris 2 3/8, and Lorillard and Reynolds Tobacco "B" were down between 1 and 2 points.

NOTICE OF APPOINTMENT

Estate of Geraldine Hord, Deceased.

Notice is hereby given that Burton T. Hord has been appointed and qualified as Administrator of the estate of Geraldine Hord late of Marion County, deceased.

Dated at Marion, Ohio, this 5th day of December A. D. 1953.

Edward J. Ruzzo, Probate Judge, Marion County, Ohio

Case No. 19701.
Dec. 9.16.23,1953.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

Notice is hereby given, in compliance with Section 5715.17 (5606) Revised, General Code of Ohio, that the real property tax returns of Marion County, for the tax year 1953 have been revised in compliance with the recommendations and orders of the Board of Tax Appeals of the Department of Taxation of Ohio, to conform with the provisions of House Bill 644 enacted by the 98th General Assembly relating to the equalization of assessed values of real property, and that the valuations are completed and are open for public inspection at the office of the County Auditor in the Court House at Marion, Ohio.

Complaints against any valuation or assessment, except the valuations fixed and assessments made by the tax commissioner of Ohio, will be heard by the county board of revision, at its office in the Court House, Marion, Ohio, on or after December 21, 1953.

Complaints must be made in writing on blanks furnished by the county auditor and filed in his office on or before the time limited for payment of taxes for the first half year, or at any time during which taxes are received by the county treasurer, without penalty for the first half year.

Maurice C. Clements
Auditor of Marion County.

Dec. 9,10,11,12,14,15,16,17,18,19.1953.

Buy Me and Move Right In
I am located close to the new high school on one of Marion's better residential streets. I am vacant to settle an estate. I have been pampered and given the best of care. I have good paint and am well decorated. I have nice sized rooms and hardwood floors down. I have three bedrooms and a full dry basement. I also have a brand new automatic gas furnace, a nice lot and good garage. My owners are going to unload me and they're not going to hold me for a high price any longer. I believe you could buy me with a very reasonable offer. So hurry and come and see me.

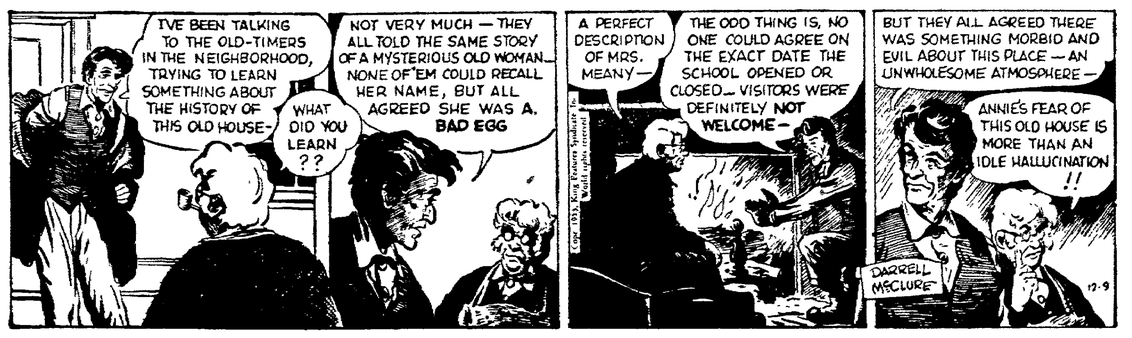
ANNIE ROONEY -:- -:- -:- -:- -:- -:- -:- -:- -:- -:- By Darrell McClure



I'VE BEEN TALKING TO THE OLD-TIMERS IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD, TRYING TO LEARN SOMETHING ABOUT THE HISTORY OF THIS OLD HOUSE-
NOT VERY MUCH — THEY ALL TOLD THE SAME STORY OF A MYSTERIOUS OLD WOMAN... NONE OF 'EM COULD RECALL HER NAME, BUT ALL AGREED SHE WAS A BAD EGG
A PERFECT DESCRIPTION OF MRS. MEANY—
THE ODD THING IS, NO ONE COULD AGREE ON THE EXACT DATE THE SCHOOL OPENED OR CLOSED— VISITORS WERE DEFINITELY NOT WELCOME—
BUT THEY ALL AGREED THERE WAS SOMETHING MORBID AND EVIL ABOUT THIS PLACE — AN UNWHOLESOME ATMOSPHERE—
ANNIE'S FEAR OF THIS OLD HOUSE IS MORE THAN AN IDLE HALLUCINATION !!
